Ike Vetoes Wage Boost For 500,000 Postal Aides

THE HOUSE is about in kindling and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kendera are in a hospital suffering severe burns as a result of an explosion which did this in Avon Lake, O., Cleveland suburb. Their four children were in school and so escaped. The blast was blamed on leaking gas.

Sharp Jump In New Cases Of Polio Reported In Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp jump in new cases of polio was reported today by the U.S. Public Health Service. For the week ended May 14, new cases totaled 206, up 30 per cent over the previous week.

The number compares with 151 in the second week of May last year, and an average of 116 for the last five years.

However, for the first time since the antipolio vaccination program ran into difficulty the number of polio cases among inoculated persons remained unchanged at 77 confirmed cases.

In another development, the Health Service announced that 23 cases of polio have now been reported among individuals, not inoculated themselves, who came in close contact with children given vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories of California. In these instances, the inoculated children themselves do not have the disease.

These reports were all in the hands of the Health Service last night when it suddenly announced that for several days at least there would be no further clearance of antipolio vaccine.

The result was to add uncertainty to the whole vaccination program.

* * *

THE ONLY explanation was a statement by a public relations spokesman for the Health Service that the delay was ordered for another look at this whole very confusing picture."

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said, however: "This delay should not be inferred as reflecting in any way on the vaccine of the companies whose manufacturing and testing processes are under study."

Because the shortage of vaccine is greater than expected, the national conference of state epidemiologists, meeting in Atlanta, asked an opinion from the Health Service on possible use of smaller doses. There was no immediate reaction here.

Although the Health Service said there was no change in its figure of 77 for the number of children, it said it does have a new suspect case in Nebraska.

That makes seven or more suspect cases under study. The others are in California, Idaho, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Illinois.

There have been five deaths among vaccinated persons. More than five million were inoculated and officials have repeatedly said there have been no findings that the vaccine was responsible.

Still approved for use in the mass inoculation program is the relatively small portion still unused from the 7,850,000 cubic centimeters produced by two laboratories: Parke, Davis & Co, of Detroit and Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis. The latter serves Ohio.

There was no explanation as to why there has been no clearance on more than 4¼ million cubic centimeters whose makers' protocols (scientific reports on which the government bases its decision whether to clear batches of vaccine for use) are known to have been in the hands of the health service since May 4. No new batches have been cleared since then. One cubic centimeter is enough for one shot.

The rechecks were ordered when some children who had been inoculated came down with polio.

Texas Solon Sets Record For Filibuster

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock pooh-poohed his national filibuster record today but said he thought he had achieved his purpose.

That purpose, Corbin said at the end of his 28 - hour, 15 - minute speaking effort yesterday, was to make Texans aware of what he considers a poor plan for financing water conservation.

The old filibuster record was 28 hours, 6 minutes, set by Senator Wayne Wagonseller March 31.

Despite extreme weariness, Corbin planned to be on hand for today's session in case the target of his wrath came to a vote.

The measure, drafted by a joint conference committee after House and Senate passed conflicting bills calls for a $100 million bond program under which the state would guarantee up to 50 per cent of the cost of water projects.

Sen. William T. Moore of Bryan, who helped with long questions in the final hours of the filibuster, tried to pin a gold medal on the new champion's chest.

As senators laughed, Corbin shoved Moore away and angrily shouted: "This is not a laughing matter."

Moore said he hadn't meant to ruffle Corbin. He said the medal was fixed up by Senate employes as a "token of esteem." Printed on the medal were the words "World Champion Filibusterer."

Pope Recovering After Weak Spell

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican sources reported today that Pope Pius XII suffered a 15-minute spell of weakness and dizziness after a general audience of more than an hour yesterday for 35,000 Italians.

The sources said the 79-year-old pontiff had recovered and today showed no signs of weakness.

The audience was the biggest the head of the Roman Catholic Church has held since his grave collapse with a stomach disorder last December. The subsequent weakness was blamed on his unusual exertion.

Jury Pondering Fate Of Mayor

LISBON (AP)—A jury of seven women and five men resumed deliberations today in the perjury trial of Salem Mayor Dean Cranmer.

Basis for the perjury suit is alleged statements Cranmer made to a state examiner in reporting a $3,330 burglary of the mayor's office in City Hall last Dec. 19. The examiner testified he had discovered shortages of more than $750 in the mayor's accounts prior to the burglary.

ROKs To Oust Married Monks

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government said today it would remove all married Buddhist monks from their temples by the end of June.

The announcement, made under orders of President Syngman Rhee, a Methodist, did not say whether force would be used to drive married monks from more than 1,000 temples in the country.

Rhee's decision was a victory for some 500 unmarried monks and nuns who went on a hunger strike to dramatize their plea.

Probers Trying To Unravel 'Payoffs' In Federal Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating senators sought to unravel today conflicting testimony about cash payoffs and costly favors in conection with large-scale buying for the military.

Witnesses told yesterday of alleged gifts of a coat to a woman government contract officer, a home freezer and fine lingerie to persons not yet named, and $50 bills to a $60-a-week government inspector who denied they were bribes.

Marvin Rubin, a professional seeker of government contracts for garment makers, was called back as a witness to tell the Senate Investigations subcommittee more about his activities.

"I have never paid a payoff," he testified yesterday.

Rubin had orders from Subcommittee chairman McClellan (D-Ark) to ponder overnight his sworn denial that he was an "influence peddler," and his testimony that the $50 bills were loans to Navy inspector Julius Goldman.

* * *

GOLDMAN SAID he took the money as advance payment on a job he said Rubin had offered him. He testified he accepted it ($50 almost every Friday for three or four months in 1952) while inspecting raincoats manufactured for the Navy by the Ansonia, Conn., Garment Co., for which Rubin was a business finder.

Rubin himself told of having given a coat to the woman contract officer. Robert F. Kennedy, the subcommitte counsel, said the woman is Mrs. Mella Hort, a contract administrator for military procurement.

Mrs. Ruth Evelove Picout, of Ellenville, N. Y., former bookkeeper for the Bonita, told of having drawn checks to pay for the gift of a home freezer to someone she did not know; $50 or $75 to pay for lingerie gifts by Rubin to others she didn't know;

$75 for a payment by Rubin to a government inspector she named as Jerome Schlesinger, and $285 which McClellan said was to pay some government worker's doctor bill.

Goldman testified that after he had rejected a batch of the Ansonia company's raincoats as defective, Rubin offered him a job as manager of the plant, and thrust into his coat pocket an envelope containing $50. He said he kept right on getting similar amounts.

Ohio Senate Gives Nod To Insurance Bill

Multiple Line Plan OKd 26-3; Measure For Nurses Approved

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Senate today virtually completed legislative action on a bill to permit casualty and fire insurance companies to write single policies on a variety of risks.

The Senate passed the House-approved measure, generally known as the multiple line insurance bill, by a vote of 26-3.

Sponsors of the measure, which swept through the House, 124-4, several weeks ago, say the combination policies the bill authorizes would save their purchasers money through a reduction in clerical expense.

Ohio now is the only state which does not permit fire insurance companies to write combination policies covering casualties and vice versa.

The vote highlighted the end of the Legislature's 20th work week.

Yesterday, after an eight-year fight, Ohio's organized nurses got Senate approval of a bill to set up a practical nurses licensing system. The bill now goes to the House after Senate approval, 27-4.

The measure enlarges the state nursing board from five to eight members (five to be registered nurses) to run the licensing system for practical nurses.

* * *

THE PROPOSED law would permit anyone to perform the duties of a practical nurse, but would allow those who qualify for licenses to term themselves "licensed practical nurses." A training program would be required for those who get future practical nurse licenses.

Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen), principal foe of the bill during the hour-long Senate debate, said it is only an opening wedge to mandatory licensing of practical nurses.

Both Senate and House approved bills to tighten insurance controls.

The House measure, said a cosponsor, Rep. John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin), bans cancellation of health insurance policies within one year, but allows companies to refuse to renew them on anniversary dates.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate with unanimous House backing, bans high-pressure selling methods and ambiguous and misleading terms in policies.

The Senate bill, according to Sen. Edward H. Dell (D-Butler), its sponsor, was aimed principally at the health and accident field. The measure, with 29-2 Senate backing, now goes to the House. It empowers the state superintendent of insurance to suspend or revoke licenses of violating firms or agents after hearings.

The House sent to the Senate a bill to permit zoning around publicly owned airports; there are 15 in Ohio. It sets a height limit of 40 feet on buildings in line with runway approaches.

The Senate completed passage of two bills to:

Allow use of saccharine and other non-nutritive sweeteners in soft drinks.

Allow pay increases for township clerks who failed to receive them in 1951. The new minimum would be $500 a year and the new top $2,400.

'Outsider' Motorists Blamed For High Traffic Toll Here

4-Month Statistics From Sheriff's Department File Show Six Of Eight Fatals Were Non-Countians

Motorists from outside Pickaway County are the ones chiefly to blame for the alarming rise in the district's traffic toll—in the number of accidents as well as fatalities. Statistics from Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff's department reveal that, during the first four months of 1955:

1. Non-county motorists were involved in all but one of the county's eight traffic deaths; six of the dead were from outside the county.

2. More than half of all the traffic accidents to date have involved non-county automobiles.

However, one curious statistic popped up for the month of March. Approximately one-third of the traffic accidents for that month involved cars registered to persons in and around the Ashville area.

Pickaway County, according to the figures, has been experiencing slightly fewer accidents. But more people are being injured, indicating more serious mishaps and more multiple-injury accidents.

* * *

MARCH OF 1955 appears to have been one of the costliest months—nearly twice as bad as last year. In 1954 for that month, there were 19 accidents and 21 injuries. For the same month in 1955, there were 37 accidents and 42 injuries.

In addition, there were two traffic deaths recorded in March of 1955; none in March of 1954.

However, with the expected increase in traffic over the upcoming "vacation" months, plus several holiday weekends, local authorities are cautious. They point out that last year from May to September there were 10 traffic deaths recorded in Pickaway County.

In an effort to help reduce the summer traffic toll, Ohio Governor Frank J. Lausche has proclaimed the period of Memorial Day to Labor Day, 1955, as the time for a "Slow Down and Live" highway safety campaign.

"Every motorist should accept his responsibility to help reduce the appalling traffic slaughter that takes place on streets and highways each year during this peak period of summer travel," the Governor declared.

* * *

SPONSORED BY the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, the "Slow Down and Live" campaign has been endorsed by the governors of all of the states, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Commissioner of the District of Columbia.

In pledging the cooperation of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety in the program, Director U. C. Felty, who will be in Circleville May 26 for a traffic safety meeting, pointed out that 479 persons were killed in Ohio traffic from 6 p. m. May 28 to midnight September 6, 1954.

"These figures should be enough to induce all motorists to accept their part in the effort," he declared.

The program was introduced in the northeast in 1953, operating in 24 states from Maine to Texas. In 1954 the campaign was again conducted and it is credited with saving the lives of 601 persons in a 24-state area.

"Slow Down and Live" concentrates on the violations associated with speed—the violations typical of the driver who is "in a hurry" and throws caution and courtesy to the winds.

Municipal governments, business and industrial leaders, civic and service organizations and safety groups are joining the program with state governments. William M. Greene of Connecticut, who is chairman of the national coordinator group, says that "a 1955 campaign result as good as that of the 24 states last year will mean a saving of over 1,100 lives."

Church-State Dispute Near Final Ballot

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Debate was expected to wind up in the Argentine Congress' lower house tonight on the government-backed proposal to end Roman Catholicism's position as the state church.

Roman Catholics, meanwhile were summoned to masses tonight in the Buenos Aires Cathedral and 70 of the capital's churches.

Ostensibly the multiple services were to commemorate the Feast of the Ascension and pray for the success of the 26th International Eucharistic Congress opening July 19 in Rio de Janeiro. But the unusual number of masses made apparent they were scheduled to demonstrate support for the church in its hot controversy with President Juan Peron.

Another Latin-American controversy between church and state loomed in Guatemala. There President Carlos Castillo Armas said he personally opposed demands by Roman Catholic Archbishop Mariano Rossell that the new constitution now being drafted give his church pre-eminence and provide for religious education in the public schools."

The bill to write the church out of the Argentine constitution aroused only one opposing speaker in the opening round yesterday of the Argentine congressional debate. Boos and catcalls drowned out most of his speech.

With the Peronista party controlling 149 of the lower chamber's 166 seats and all 34 of the Senate seats, approval of the measure in both houses in certain.

Hindu Wives Win Right To Divorce

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Rajendra Prasad has signed the new marriage law giving Hindu women the right to demand divorces for the first time in 5,000 years, it was announced today.

The law laso restricts Hindus to one wife. Although few have more than one, polygamy has been permitted in some Hindu sects.

Another Major Step Set For Fund Operation

Another important step in getting the newly-formed Pickaway County Community Fund under way will come Thursday night when leaders of the organization meet in the courthouse here.

The session is not intended to be a public gathering. Work on the agenda will be handled by members of the board of directors, spokesmen for local fund-raising groups, and others in position to help put the Fund into full-scale operation.

Although no recent progress reports have been issued for publication, it was believed that adoption of a constitution will be one of the top items of business set for the evening. This, in turn, would help clear the way for incorporation of the new group.

All indications were that leaders of the local Red Cross chapter are still waiting for clarification of that portion of the proposed constitution which deals with the eligibility of Fund member groups. In particular, the Red Cross wants a definition of the phrase "health and welfare", which appears in that section.

* * *

IT IS no longer a secret that Red Cross officials fear ineligible organizations may try to earn a place with the Fund setup. For this reason, definition of terms in the constitution will be essential in the key sections before the Red Cross will agree to participate.

The Red Cross and at least five other groups have indicated they are "very much interested" in the Fund. The new group is designed to merge all the local fund-raising drives into one big annual campaign.

Aid For Vets Asked

Man Breaks Into 'Wrong' House

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The strange case of how a man broke into the wrong house was told here yesterday in court.

Anthony . Volpe, 29, related that he and a friend borrowed $150 from a bank.

The friend didn't pay his share so Volpe met the debt.

To get even, Volpe decided to break into what he thought was his friend's house. Volpe took out a chair and a radio, then went back into the house and woke his "friend."

But it wasn't his friend. It was a stranger.

Air General Says Russian Planes Now Equal To U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — A high-ranking Air Force intelligence officer says the Russians have fighters and bombers equal in performance to the best planes the United States now has and the Russians have more of these planes.

Brig. Gen. Woodbury M. Burgess, deputy chief of staff for intelligence of the Continental Air Defense Command, said last night, "The Russian air force is currenty at least as good as ours, possibly better."

President Eisenhower, at his news conference in Washington yesterday, rejected any idea that the United States may have lost control of the air to Russia. Eisenhower conceded that the United States may not have as many B52 intercontinental jet bombers "as we should like at this moment."

He added, "I don't know the exact number but to say that we have lost in a twinkling all of this great technical development and technical excellence as well as the numbers in our total aircraft is just not true."

* * *

SPEAKING to an American Legion post at Selfridge Field, Burgess said he also feared "the Russians are ahead of us in the effort to perfect the guided missile.

"One of our troubles," he said, "is that we have been underestimating the Russians."

Burgess said the Russians have two new bombers equal in size and performance to the Air Force's new eight-jet B52, but that the Russian aircraft only have four engines.

A medium bomber comparable to our six-jet B47 and yet having only two engines is being flown by the Russians, he said.

Burgess said the Russians also have more supersonic fighters, similar to our F100, than we have.

Burgess departed from a prepared speech in giving this information. He said the Defense Department had authorized it.

Burgess reported that Russia's new aircraft were shown in strength near Moscow during April as they practiced for the annual May Day show of military strength. The air show was called off because of bad weather, but reports of the aircraft have been forwarded to Washington from observers in Russia, Burgess said.

The big intercontinental bombers similar to our B52s were seen in two versions, he said. One was powered by four jet engines, and the other by four turbo props.

Senate Slated For Vote On Bill Tuesday

GOP Leader Certain Senators To Sustain President's Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today vetoed pay raise legislation for 500,000 postal workers. He said its 8.6 per cent average rise was too big and called on Congress to pass a new bill "fair" to postal workers but less burdensome to taxpayers.

Senate Democratic leaders promptly laid plans for an attempt to override the veto next Tuesday. It will be the first time since Eisenhower became President that such a test has arisen although he has vetoed several dozen bills, most of a minor nature.

Tuesday was set as the voting time by agreement of Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson (Texas) and Republican Leader Knowland (Calif). The Senate approved and agreed to limit debate to three hours.

Johnson declined to predict the chances of overriding, commenting "I haven't had time to make a check."

But Knowland said he was confident the veto would be sustained.

Knowland said he believed Congress then would promptly enact a 7.6 per cent bill, which the President has indicated he will approve.

* * *

SEN. CARLSON (Kan), ranking Republican on the Senate Postoffice and Civil Service Committee, has such a bill ready.

It requires an affirmative vote by two-thirds of those present and voting to override a veto.

The Senate originally passed the pay bill 66-11 but GOP leaders are confident that many Republicans who voted for the measure will not vote to override Eisenhower.

Sen. Robertson (D-Va) said he agreed the veto would be sustained. He, too, predicted quick passage of a substitute that Eisenhower will accept.

The President told the Senate in

DOVER (AP)—Eighty - year - old Mrs. Jennie Brick of Mineral City saw six Canton boys "fooling around" the farm home of a relative Tuesday night. Her own home recently was damaged by vandals.

So, she armed herself with a pistol to investigate and found the boys throwing beds and furnishings out of a window. They grouped to rush her, but she fired a shot through the fender of their automobile and held them at gunpoint until a deputy sheriff took them into custody.

DROODLES

"BUS STOP ON A RAINY DAY"

Dr. Schwine recently figured out that people spend 2,450,000 man-hours every year waiting for buses, which are enough to build a battleship. Now I'll admit that battle ships are okay, especially if you're an Admiral but I'd prefer to see those man-hours spent Droodling. Because a battleship can't compare with a Droodle. No sir! If you doubt this cheek your Almanac and see if a Droodle was ever sunk by a submarine or a dive bomber. Also Droodles are practical. You can take them to parties whereas if you take a battleship to a party it would just be in the way. And another thing—no one ever got sea-sick from Droodling. Slightly nauseous maybe—but never seasick.

Ohio now is the only state which does not permit fire insurance companies to write combination policies covering casualties and vice versa.

The vote highlighted the end of the Legislature's 20th work week.

Yesterday, after an eight-year fight, Ohio's organized nurses got Senate approval of a bill to set up a practical nurses licensing system. The bill now goes to the House after Senate approval, 27-4.

The measure enlarges the state nursing board from five to eight members (five to be registered nurses) to run the licensing system for practical nurses.

* * *

THE PROPOSED law would permit anyone to perform the duties of a practical nurse, but would allow those who qualify for licenses to term themselves "licensed practical nurses." A training program would be required for those who get future practical nurse licenses.

Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen), principal foe of the bill during the hour-long Senate debate, said it is only an opening wedge to mandatory licensing of practical nurses.

Both Senate and House approved bills to tighten insurance controls.

The House measure, said a cosponsor, Rep. John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin), bans cancellation of health insurance policies within one year, but allows companies to refuse to renew them on anniversary dates.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate with unanimous House backing, bans high-pressure selling methods and ambiguous and misleading terms in policies.

The Senate bill, according to Sen. Edward H. Dell (D-Butler), its sponsor, was aimed principally at the health and accident field. The measure, with 29-2 Senate backing, now goes to the House. It empowers the state superintendent of insurance to suspend or revoke licenses of violating firms or agents after hearings.

The House sent to the Senate a bill to permit zoning around publicly owned airports; there are 15 in Ohio. It sets a height limit of 40 feet on buildings in line with runway approaches.

The Senate completed passage of two bills to:

Allow use of saccharine and other non-nutritive sweeteners in soft drinks.

Allow pay increases for township clerks who failed to receive them in 1951. The new minimum would be $500 a year and the new top $2,400.

Judge Orders Body Exhumed

DEFIANCE (AP) — Mrs. Doris Marie Nagel's body will be exhumed for an autopsy, Defiance County Common Pleas Judge Dan Batt ruled yesterday.

The Napoleon woman was killed in a plunge from her third floor apartment window last Jan. 25. Her husband, Karl, has been indicted for second degree murder in her death.

'Outsider' Motorists Blamed For High Traffic Toll Here

4-Month Statistics From Sheriff's Department File Show Six Of Eight Fatals Were Non-Countians

Motorists from outside Pickaway County are the ones chiefly to blame for the alarming rise in the district's traffic toll—in the number of accidents as well as fatalities. Statistics from Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff's department reveal that, during the first four months of 1955:

1. Non-county motorists were involved in all but one of the county's eight traffic deaths; six of the dead were from outside the county.

2. More than half of all the traffic accidents to date have involved non-county automobiles.

However, one curious statistic popped up for the month of March. Approximately one-third of the traffic accidents for that month involved cars registered to persons in and around the Ashville area.

Pickaway County, according to the figures, has been experiencing slightly fewer accidents. But more people are being injured, indicating more serious mishaps and more multiple-injury accidents.

* * *

MARCH OF 1955 appears to have been one of the costliest months—nearly twice as bad as last year. In 1954 for that month, there were 19 accidents and 21 injuries. For the same month in 1955, there were 37 accidents and 42 injuries.

In addition, there were two traffic deaths recorded in March of 1955; none in March of 1954.

However, with the expected increase in traffic over the upcoming "vacation" months, plus several holiday weekends, local authorities are cautious. They point out that last year from May to September there were 10 traffic deaths recorded in Pickaway County.

In an effort to help reduce the summer traffic toll, Ohio Governor Frank J. Lausche has proclaimed the period of Memorial Day to Labor Day, 1955, as the time for a "Slow Down and Live" highway safety campaign.

"Every motorist should accept his responsibility to help reduce the appalling traffic slaughter that takes place on streets and highways each year during this peak period of summer travel," the Governor declared.

* * *

SPONSORED BY the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, the "Slow Down and Live" campaign has been endorsed by the governors of all of the states, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Commissioner of the District of Columbia.

In pledging the cooperation of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety in the program, Director U. C. Felty, who will be in Circleville May 26 for a traffic safety meeting, pointed out that 479 persons were killed in Ohio traffic from 6 p. m. May 28 to midnight September 6, 1954.

"These figures should be enough to induce all motorists to accept their part in the effort," he declared.

The program was introduced in the northeast in 1953, operating in 24 states from Maine to Texas. In 1954 the campaign was again conducted and it is credited with saving the lives of 601 persons in a 24-state area.

"Slow Down and Live" concentrates on the violations associated with speed—the violations typical of the driver who is "in a hurry" and throws caution and courtesy to the winds.

Municipal governments, business and industrial leaders, civic and service organizations and safety groups are joining the program with state governments. William M. Greene of Connecticut, who is chairman of the national coordinator group, says that "a 1955 campaign result as good as that of the 24 states last year will mean a saving of over 1,100 lives."

Church-State Dispute Near Final Ballot

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Debate was expected to wind up in the Argentine Congress' lower house tonight on the government-backed proposal to end Roman Catholicism's position as the state church.

Roman Catholics, meanwhile were summoned to masses tonight in the Buenos Aires Cathedral and 70 of the capital's churches.

Ostensibly the multiple services were to commemorate the Feast of the Ascension and pray for the success of the 26th International Eucharistic Congress opening July 19 in Rio de Janeiro. But the unusual number of masses made apparent they were scheduled to demonstrate support for the church in its hot controversy with President Juan Peron.

Another Latin-American controversy between church and state loomed in Guatemala. There President Carlos Castillo Armas said he personally opposed demands by Roman Catholic Archbishop Mariano Rossell that the new constitution now being drafted give his church pre-eminence and provide for religious education in the public schools."

The bill to write the church out of the Argentine constitution aroused only one opposing speaker in the opening round yesterday of the Argentine congressional debate. Boos and catcalls drowned out most of his speech.

With the Peronista party controlling 149 of the lower chamber's 166 seats and all 34 of the Senate seats, approval of the measure in both houses in certain.

Hindu Wives Win Right To Divorce

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Rajendra Prasad has signed the new marriage law giving Hindu women the right to demand divorces for the first time in 5,000 years, it was announced today.

The law laso restricts Hindus to one wife. Although few have more than one, polygamy has been permitted in some Hindu sects.

Another Major Step Set For Fund Operation

Another important step in getting the newly-formed Pickaway County Community Fund under way will come Thursday night when leaders of the organization meet in the courthouse here.

The session is not intended to be a public gathering. Work on the agenda will be handled by members of the board of directors, spokesmen for local fund-raising groups, and others in position to help put the Fund into full-scale operation.

Although no recent progress reports have been issued for publication, it was believed that adoption of a constitution will be one of the top items of business set for the evening. This, in turn, would help clear the way for incorporation of the new group.

All indications were that leaders of the local Red Cross chapter are still waiting for clarification of that portion of the proposed constitution which deals with the eligibility of Fund member groups. In particular, the Red Cross wants a definition of the phrase "health and welfare", which appears in that section.

* * *

IT IS no longer a secret that Red Cross officials fear ineligible organizations may try to earn a place with the Fund setup. For this reason, definition of terms in the constitution will be essential in the key sections before the Red Cross will agree to participate.

The Red Cross and at least five other groups have indicated they are "very much interested" in the Fund. The new group is designed to merge all the local fund-raising drives into one big annual campaign.

Aid For Vets Asked

Air General Says Russian Planes Now Equal To U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — A high-ranking Air Force intelligence officer says the Russians have fighters and bombers equal in performance to the best planes the United States now has and the Russians have more of these planes.

Brig. Gen. Woodbury M. Burgess, deputy chief of staff for intelligence of the Continental Air Defense Command, said last night, "The Russian air force is currenty at least as good as ours, possibly better."

President Eisenhower, at his news conference in Washington yesterday, rejected any idea that the United States may have lost control of the air to Russia. Eisenhower conceded that the United States may not have as many B52 intercontinental jet bombers "as we should like at this moment."

He added, "I don't know the exact number but to say that we have lost in a twinkling all of this great technical development and technical excellence as well as the numbers in our total aircraft is just not true."

* * *

SPEAKING to an American Legion post at Selfridge Field, Burgess said he also feared "the Russians are ahead of us in the effort to perfect the guided missile."

"One of our troubles," he said, "is that we have been underestimating the Russians."

Burgess said the Russians have two new bombers equal in size and performance to the Air Force's new eight-jet B52, but that the Russian aircraft only have four engines.

A medium bomber comparable to our six-jet B47 and yet having only two engines is being flown by the Russians, he said.

Burgess said the Russians also have more supersonic fighters, similar to our F100, than we have.

Burgess departed from a prepared speech in giving this information. He said the Defense Department had authorized it.

Burgess reported that Russia's new aircraft were shown in strength near Moscow during April as they practiced for the annual May Day show of military strength. The air show was called off because of bad weather, but reports of the aircraft have been forwarded to Washington from observers in Russia, Burgess said.

The big intercontinental bombers similar to our B52s were seen in two versions, he said. One was powered by four jet engines, and the other by four turbo props.

Senate Slated For Vote On Bill Tuesday

GOP Leader Certain Senators To Sustain President's Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today vetoed pay raise legislation for 500,000 postal workers. He said its 8.6 per cent average rise was too big and called on Congress to pass a new bill "fair" to postal workers but less burdensome to taxpayers.

Senate Democratic leaders promptly laid plans for an attempt to override the veto next Tuesday. It will be the first time since Eisenhower became President that such a test has arisen although he has vetoed several dozen bills, most of a minor nature.

Tuesday was set as the voting time by agreement of Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson (Texas) and Republican Leader Knowland (Calif). The Senate approved and agreed to limit debate to three hours.

Johnson declined to predict the chances of overriding, commenting "I haven't had time to make a check."

But Knowland said he was confident the veto would be sustained.

Knowland said he believed Congress then would promptly enact a 7.6 per cent bill, which the President has indicated he will approve.

* * *

SEN. CARLSON (Kan), ranking Republican on the Senate Postoffice and Civil Service Committee, has such a bill ready.

It requires an affirmative vote by two-thirds of those present and voting to override a veto.

The Senate originally passed the pay bill 66-11 but GOP leaders are confident that many Republicans who voted for the measure will not vote to override Eisenhower.

Sen. Robertson (D-Va) said he agreed the veto would be sustained. He, too, predicted quick passage of a substitute that Eisenhower will accept.

Man Breaks Into 'Wrong' House

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The strange case of how a man broke into the wrong house was told here yesterday in court.

Anthony . Volpe, 29, related that he and a friend borrowed $150 from a bank.

The friend didn't pay his share so Volpe met the debt.

To get even, Volpe decided to break into what he thought was his friend's house. Volpe took out a chair and a radio, then went back into the house and woke his "friend."

But it wasn't his friend. It was a stranger.

Woman, 80, Holds Boys At Gunpoint

DOVER (AP)—Eighty - year - old Mrs. Jennie Brick of Mineral City saw six Canton boys "fooling around" the farm home of a relative Tuesday night. Her own home recently was damaged by vandals.

So, she armed herself with a pistol to investigate and found the boys throwing beds and furnishings out of a window. They grouped to rush her, but she fired a shot through the fender of their automobile and held them at gunpoint until a deputy sheriff took them into custody.

DROODLES

"BUS STOP ON A RAINY DAY"

Dr. Schwine recently figured out that people spend 2,450,000 man-hours every year waiting for buses, which are enough to build a battleship. Now I'll admit that battle ships are okay, especially if you're an Admiral but I'd prefer to see those man-hours spent Droodling. Because a battleship can't compare with a Droodle. No sir! If you doubt this check your Almanac and see if a Droodle was ever sunk by a submarine or a dive bomber. Also Droodles are practical. You can take them to parties whereas if you take a battleship to a party it would just be in the way. And another thing—no one ever got sea-sick from Droodling. Slightly nauseous maybe—but never seasick.

a veto message he regretted his action and earnestly hoped and recommended:

That "the Congress will quickly conside. and enact postal pay legislation that will be in the public interest and fair to all the half million employes who man the postal service."

He said the vetoed measure would impose "a heavier burden upon the taxpayer than is necessary."

Eisenhower listed these three reasons for his veto:

"First, the bill creates new discriminations or inequalities which would affect many thousands of postal employes.

"Second, the bill created gave administrative problems such as the establishment of thousands of individual pay rates. It forces awkward and unfair administrative practices in a government department whose operations affect every person, every enterprise, every community in the country.

* * *

"THIRD, the bill imposes a heavier burden upon the taxpayer than is necessary to establish salary rates throughout the department which will compare favorably with rates for similar work elsewhere in government and in private industry."

The President has indicated an average 7.6 raise is about as far as he is willing to go.

Senate Panel Slows Farm Bill Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a one-vote margin, the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday beat back a move aimed at early Senate action on a House-passed bill to restore rigid, high-level price supports for basic farm crops.

The committee agreed, instead, to consider the House bill and the price support program generally at public hearings.

The House recently passed a bill for support of basic crops at 90 per cent of parity for another three years. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices fair to producers in relation to the cost of things they buy.

Courses Available For Navy Recruits

ARIZONA'S SPACE RESEARCH CENTER

It's Lowell Observatory Near Town of Flagstaff

By REX STANLEY
Central Press Correspondent

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ.—So quietly that few residents realize it, this small town has become one of the nation's busiest space research centers.

There is no apparent change in easy-going western life here. Cowboys and lumbermen continue to work the upland ranges and pine forests, and hundreds of heat-dodging summer tourists come to Flagstaff to vacation in the cool, smog-free mountain air.

Patiently probing through this same clean air every night are at least a dozen scientists who hope to crack secrets of outer space. They make up probably the largest concentration of diversified space researchers found in any small American town today.

Like the tourists, they are here for the climate, but for a different reason. The thin, steady atmosphere above this 7,000-foot high community is nearly perfect for what astronomers call "seeing"—accurate telescopic research that may solve mysteries of space travel, solar energy, guided missiles, and long-range weather forecasting.

* * *

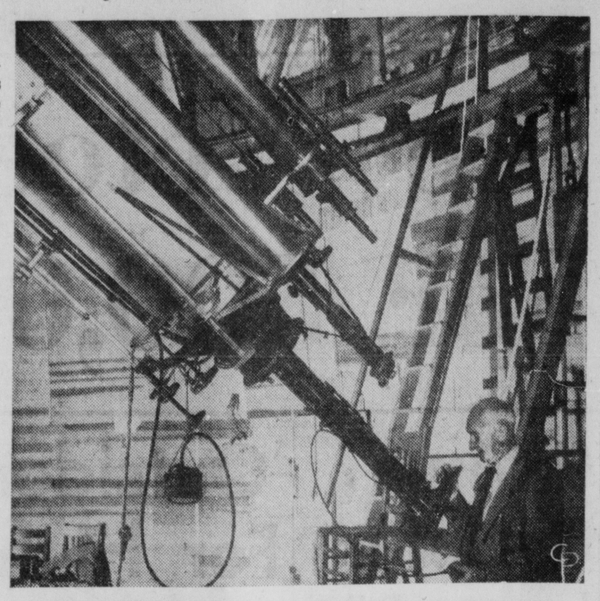
MOST of these space studies are military and defense projects, with full details classified "top secret." Some of the research here has been going on for as long as five years. However, the projects are so closely guarded that few residents are aware several of the world's great scientists are watching the sky above their town.

Most of this quiet research is being carried out at the Lowell observatory, on a high hill alongside Flagstaff. Here, the disputed canals of Mars were first seen, half a century ago.

Today, Lowell is the world center for Martian research, and directs studies of the red planet by a hundred observatories over the globe. A prime objective is evidence that may prove there is life on Mars.

* * *

SEVERAL Lowell projects are part of the high-priority military bureau of space medicine. With telescopes and computors, scientists are charting in the earth's upper atmosphere, calculating the torrid sun temperatures outside the atmosphere, estimating the lethal cosmic rays in outer space. All of these little-known dangers must be met by tomorrow's space explorers.



Dr. E. C. Slipher, with aid of Lowell's huge 42-inch reflector type telescope, takes photographs of Mars. Lowell directs 100 other observatories throughout the world in Martian research. It was at Lowell that the "canals" of Mars were first seen 50 years ago and here, too, observers discovered the planet Pluto.

Another problem, more a part of today's world, is long-range weather predictions. If scientists could see the Earth from thousands of miles above it, they might know how world weather is formed and what patterns it follows. A group of Lowell projects calls for intensive study of weather and clouds around planets like Jupiter.

* * *

IT'S HOPED that such study may give a clue to earth weather. Already, research shows that the clouds around Jupiter are much like ours, only formed of ammonia and methane, instead of water vapor. Jovian atmosphere follows strikingly similar hemispheric patterns and includes a high-altitude "jet stream" like the Earth's.

Working from the basic fact that all life is sustained by solar energy and looking toward the day when man can harness it, Lowell researchers today are painstakingly tracking the sun's power for possible variations.

Instead of measuring sun energy during the daytime, these astronomers work at night. Reflected sunlight from no-atmosphere planets like Uranus and Neptune is being graphed by photometrics.

Infinitely tiny amounts of this reflected light are focused through a telescope to an electron tube and circuit which amplifies the light 100 million times for the moving graph.

* * *

BEHIND Flagstaff, from the top of a steep volcanic peak, another group of scientists is charting the intensities and paths of the "constant stars." These are the same stars man has navigated by for centuries.

Under tight security, modern physicists and aeronautical engineers are determining how accurate the constant stars will be for automatic navigation of globe-circling guided missiles.

On the campus of an Arizona state teachers' college, within the Flagstaff city limits, a famous mathematician is studying the upper atmosphere for answers to a tough military problem: how to control jets and rocket ships in the thin high-altitude air.

When the next big discovery by space research is made public, it may come from the scientists who probe this mountain sky. For most Flagstaff residents, the news will be a real surprise.

CIO To Submit Jobless Pay Proposal To Ohio Voters

COLUMBUS (AP)—Balked in the Ohio Legislature, CIO officials said today they will ask voters in November to approve a boost in jobless benefits to a maximum of $50 a week for 39 weeks.

The present maximum is $30 for 26 weeks.

Union spokesmen said they planned to circulate petitions in the next 90 days to place the proposal on election ballots. They need 77,934 valid signatures by Aug. 15 to qualify.

President James P. Griffin of the Ohio CIO Council applied to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for petitions.

Officials said they decided to carry their cause to the people after the Legislature failed to act on an initiated bill to increase unemployment compensation.

The union placed its bill before the Legislature by obtaining 95,595 signatures on petitions. Under Ohio law, that required the General Assembly to receive the bill for consideration.

Statute permits the union to get additional signatures and place the proposal before voters if the Legislature fails to act on an initiated bill within four months. The time for such action in the Legislature expired last Tuesday.

The labor - initiated bill has rested in the House Labor and Industry Committee since last Jan. 27. Members have indicated they might "let it lie" there.

The Senate Industry and Labor Committee recently recommended passage of a bill to increase maximum benefits $3 a week to $33 for 26 weeks. That proposal also would boost from $5 to $6 a week the maximum benefits for dependent children of jobless workers.

The CIO-initiated bill proposed a $9 a week maximum for dependents.

Flower Box Falls, Killing Girl, 5

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Playing in a neighbor's yard in nearby Boardman yesterday, 5-year - old Barbara Wansack tried to climb upon a five-foot flower box.

It fell on her, causing her death shortly afterward in a hospital from a lacerated liver. She was the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Wansack.

Leroy Galvin Remembered In Scholarship

OXFORD (AP)—Establishment of the Leroy S. Galvin scholarship at Miami University in memory of the late publisher of the Lima News, was announced today.

President John D. Millett said a $10,000 fund was established by Galvin's daughter, Miss Catharine R. Galvin of Lima. It will produce $600 annually for scholarships.

The late Mr. Gavlin was a member of the Class of 1898 at Miami University and was a trustee from 1917 until his death on March 1, 1952.

In addition to the Lima News, Mr. Galvin was affiliated with the Circleville Herald, the Hillsboro Press-Gazette and News - Herald, the Logan News, the Van Wert Times Bulletin, the Washington C. H. Record-Herald and the Wilmington News-Journal.

The first recipient of the four-year scholarship will be John Read Cronin, 18, of New Philadelphia.

He will enter Miami as a pre-law student next fall and will receive $150 yearly. That amount will be sufficient to pay Cronin's registration fee and a part of his additional fees.

Three present Miami University students have been granted the scholarship for the remainder of their stay on the campus, President Millett said. They are Paul J. Pease of Lewisburg, Leigh Van Valen of Cincinnati and Gordon Landis Wise of Piqua.

Heavy Rainfall Hits Dust Bowl

Colorado-Texas Area Given Saturation

DENVER (AP) — The Purgatoire River today spread over Trinidad, Colo., as cries of "too much rain" came from widespread drought areas of the Southwest where dust storms raged only a fortnight ago.

Both business and residential sections were inundated by the flooding river which bisects the railroad mining center. This is in an area from which some of the worst dust storms of the year have blown across the Southwest.

Rain continued after more than 30 hours at Trinidad. The river flooded the main line tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad and knocked out phone lines.

Some 75 National Guardsmen evacuated families from the threatened area. Schools were closed. Water was two feet deep in the railroad station.

Highways were closed to the west and south of Trinidad and near Hoehne, a farming community to the east.

Meanwhile, flood threats around three Texas cities subsided almost as quickly as the sudden cloudbursts that caused them.

* * *

POLICE minimized the danger to the Texas communities, although residents were evacuated from low areas, highways and railroads washed out, and many areas flooded. Damage was slight.

At Ballinger, Brady and Eastland, Tex., they said, "it lookslike we've got it whipped. It looks now as if we'll make it." It was still raining, however, at Eastland where more than 11 inches of rain fell in 12 hours.

In southern Oklahoma water ran over curbs and minor flood conditions were reported in Temple, Waurika, Lawton, Frederick, Comanche and Walters.

Colorado received up to 16 inches of snow in the mountains and up to 3 inches of rain across its drought ravaged eastern plains.

A dozen tornadoes skipped over Texas and Oklahoma was under tornado alert much of last night, but little damage was reported and there were no injuries.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

RALPH STEVENSON

Ralph Bently Stevenson died Wednesday afternoon in his home on Ashville Route 1.

Mr. Stevenson, a farmer, was born Jan. 4, 1888 in Circleville, a son of Alexander and Harriett Groce Stevenson. He was preceded in death by his wife, Ann Fischer Stevenson.

Surviving him are: a son, Ralph J. Stevenson of Circleville Route 2; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Ann Stevenson Bresler of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Jane Stevenson Jones of Columbus and Mrs. Martha Stevenson Wells of Ashville; a brother, J. Stanley Stevenson of Kansas City, Kan., and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Bastian Funeral Home of Ashville. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery, Circleville.

Friends may call in the funeral home after 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Local Man Fined As Drunk Driver

A Circleville motorist was handed a belated fine for drunk driving, according to city court reports today.

Turney Clifton, 64, who had been arrested last week for the offense, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to the county jail for three days and had his driving rights suspended for six months. Officer Leroy Hawks had made the arrest.

Others receiving fines included:

Troy E. Sabastian, 22, of North Carolina; $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line; arrested by State Patrolman Bob Greene.

Fred Burris Jr., 34, of Newport, Ky.; $5 and costs for passing a red light; arrested by Officer Bob Temple.

Postal Inspectors Halt Race Tickets

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten thousand envelopes mailed in the British West Indies to Chicagoans have been intercepted by postoffice inspectors because they contain tickets for the Jamaica Sweepstakes.

Clock In Tower Enjoys Slow Day

Time and tide wait for no man, they say. But at least the clock in the Pickaway County courthouse tower was giving everybody a good chance to catch up today.

Long noted for the strange things it does on short notice, the stately timekeeper dozed off altogether for awhile this morning. That, any rate, is the only way the startled clock-watchers could explain it when they looked up and saw the tower clock running neatly an hour behind time.

At 20 minutes of 1 o'clock, the clock in the tower was still insisting it was only 13 minutes of noon.

Many a "lunch hour" was really that and then some today, around Court and Franklin.

And if the boss passed any nasty remarks about it, you could always point to the official timepiece.

Adlai Says Dems To Be United Party

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democrats, says Adlai Stevenson, will be a united party in 1956 and he believe "those who have strayed and returned in good faith should be welcomed back to the fold."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said yesterday that for the last two years he had done "all I could to assure a united Democratic party in 1956."

The former Illinois governor, returning from a month-long business trip to Africa, declared:

"I am against loyalty oaths but am very much in favor of loyalty and good faith in politics, and I beleive a delegate who takes part in any Democratic decision-making process bears a serious obligation to abide by the majority decision unless his conscience forbids him to."

Stephen A. Mitchell, the party's former national chairman, recently said a floor fight would be made in the 1956 convention, if necessary, to prevent seating of any or all three Southern Democratic leaders who, after serving as delegates to the 1952 convention which nominated Stevenson, supported Dwight Eisenhower.

Mitchell, advised of Stevenson's statement, said he would predict the convention credentials committee will reject Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, James F. Byrnes, former governor of South Carolina, the 1952 "apostates."

Bulgar Tries Again To Return 'Home'

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Vasil Petroff Svilansky, who came to the United States from Bulgaria in 1939 with a round-trip ticket, will leave Saturday on the long-delayed return journey — unless fate intervenes for the fifth time.

The outbreak of World War II first prevented his return. Then four additional times arrangements were made for the trip back to Communist-dominated Bulgaria. Each time weather or sickness forced cancellation.

Svilansky, 72, says he wants to spend his remaining years with his two sons in Bulgaria.

County Shows New Gain In Tax Revenues

Registering widespread gains in all but two major industry classifications, Ohio sales tax revenues for the week ending May 7 were 26.46 percent over the corresponding week of last year. It was the latest in a long series of increases.

Totals released today by State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy show that Pickaway County went along with the latest increase, registering a gain of more than $2,000 by the 12-month comparison. Sales tax receipts in the county for the week ending May 7 amounted to $8,355.85. For the corresponding week of last year, the county's total was $6,122.13.

Statewide, by the same comparison, this year's figure was $3,985,065, a gain of $833,934 over the corresponding figure for 1954.

Comparing the cumulative grand total revenues of $169,133,803 from prepaid tax receipts and other collections from July 1, 1954, with those of the corresponding period from July 1, 1953 to May 8, 1954, Tracy said that the over-all increase for the current fiscal year, to date, is $5,600,479, or 3.42 percent.

* * *

PERCENTAGE gains reported in the various groups, with the dollar increases over 1954 totals, were: food, $42,273, or 22.28 percent; apparel, $16,809, or 10.18 percent; automotive, $428,519, or 48.55 percent; furniture, $55,527 or 22.72 percent; building, $167,740, or 43.67 percent; and miscellaneous, $131,809, or 27.71 percent.

An analysis of the summary showed that, for the 24th consecutive week, the sub-group of motor vehicle sales registered a big increase in excess of tax collections for the corresponding week a year ago. The amount gained was $417,737, or 55.68 percent.

Senate Slated For Vote On Bill Tuesday

a veto message he regretted his action and earnestly hoped and recommended:

That "the Congress will quickly conside. and enact postal pay legislation that will be in the public interest and fair to all the half million employes who man the postal service."

He said the vetoed measure would impose "a heavier burden upon the taxpayer than is necessary."

Eisenhower listed these three reasons for his veto:

"First, the bill creates new discriminations or inequalities which would affect many thousands of postal employes.

"Second, the bill created gave administrative problems such as the establishment of thousands of individual pay rates. It forces awkward and unfair administrative practices in a government department whose operations affect every person, every enterprise, every community in the country.

* * *

"THIRD, the bill imposes a heavier burden upon the taxpayer than is necessary to establish salary rates throughout the department which will compare favorably with rates for similar work elsewhere in government and in private industry."

The President has indicated an average 7.6 raise is about as far as he is willing to go.

Senate Panel Slows Farm Bill Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a one-vote margin, the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday beat back a move aimed at early Senate action on a House-passed bill to restore rigid, high-level price supports for basic farm crops.

The committee agreed, instead, to consider the House bill and the price support program generally at public hearings.

The House recently passed a bill for support of basic crops at 90 per cent of parity for another three years. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices fair to producers in relation to the cost of things they buy.

ARIZONA'S SPACE RESEARCH CENTER

It's Lowell Observatory Near Town of Flagstaff

By REX STANLEY
Central Press Correspondent

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ.—So quietly that few residents realize it, this small town has become one of the nation's busiest space research centers.

There is no apparent change in easy-going western life here. Cowboys and lumbermen continue to work the upland ranges and pine forests, and hundreds of heat-dodging summer tourists come to Flagstaff to vacation in the cool, smog-free mountain air.

Patiently probing through this same clean air every night are at least a dozen scientists who hope to crack secrets of outer space. They make up probably the largest concentration of diversified space researchers found in any small American town today.

Like the tourists, they are here for the climate, but for a different reason. The thin, steady atmosphere above this 7,000-foot high community is nearly perfect for what astronomers call "seeing"—accurate telescopic research that may solve mysteries of space travel, solar energy, guided missiles, and long-range weather forecasting.

* * *

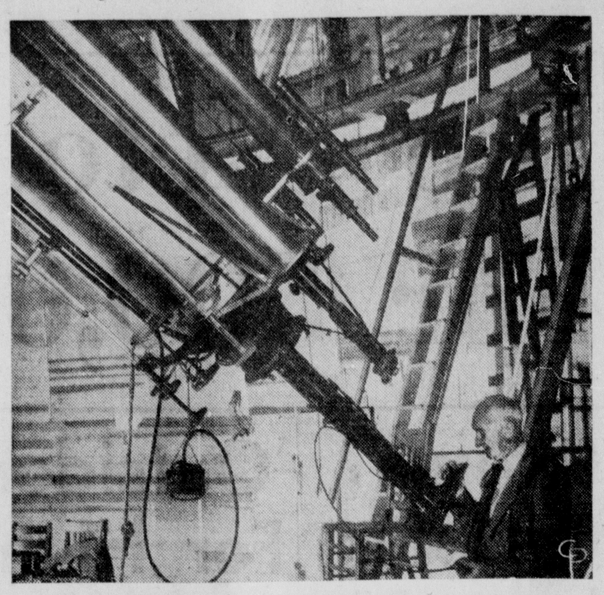
MOST of these space studies are military and defense projects, with full details classified "top secret." Some of the research here has been going on for as long as five years. However, the projects are so closely guarded that few residents are aware several of the world's great scientists are watching the sky above their town.

Most of this quiet research is being carried out at the Lowell observatory, on a high hill alongside Flagstaff. Here, the disputed canals of Mars were first seen, half a century ago.

Today, Lowell is the world center for Martian research, and directs studies of the red planet by a hundred observatories over the globe. A prime objective is evidence that may prove there is life on Mars.

* * *

SEVERAL Lowell projects are part of the high-priority military bureau of space medicine. With telescopes and computors, scientists are charting in the earth's upper atmosphere, calculating the torrid sun temperatures outside the atmosphere, estimating the lethal cosmic rays in outer space. All of these little-known dangers must be met by tomorrow's space explorers.



Dr. E. C. Slipher, with aid of Lowell's huge 42-inch reflector type telescope, takes photographs of Mars. Lowell directs 100 other observatories throughout the world in Martian research. It was at Lowell that the "canals" of Mars were first seen 50 years ago and here, too, observers discovered the planet Pluto.

Another problem, more a part of today's world, is long-range weather predictions. If scientists could see the Earth from thousands of miles above it, they might know how world weather is formed and what patterns it follows. A group of Lowell projects calls for intensive study of weather and clouds around planets like Jupiter.

* * *

IT'S HOPED that such study may give a clue to earth weather. Already, research shows that the clouds around Jupiter are much like ours, only formed of ammonia and methane, instead of water vapor. Jovian atmosphere follows strikingly similar hemispheric patterns and includes a high-altitude "jet stream" like the Earth's.

Working from the basic fact that all life is sustained by solar energy and looking toward the day when man can harness it, Lowell researchers today are painstakingly tracking the sun's power for possible variations.

Instead of measuring sun energy during the daytime, these astronomers work at night. Reflected sunlight from no-atmosphere planets like Uranus and Neptune is being graphed by photometrics.

Infinitely tiny amounts of this reflected light are focused through a telescope to an electron tube and circuit which amplifies the light 100 million times for the moving graph.

* * *

BEHIND Flagstaff, from the top of a steep volcanic peak, another group of scientists is charting the intensities and paths of the "constant stars." These are the same stars man has navigated by for centuries.

Under tight security, modern physicists and aeronautical engineers are determining how accurate the constant stars will be for automatic navigation of globe-circling guided missiles.

On the campus of an Arizona state teachers' college, within the Flagstaff city limits, a famous mathematician is studying the upper atmosphere for answers to a tough military problem: how to control jets and rocket ships in the thin high-altitude air.

When the next big discovery by space research is made public, it may come from the scientists who probe this mountain sky. For most Flagstaff residents, the news will be a real surprise.

CIO To Submit Jobless Pay Proposal To Ohio Voters

COLUMBUS (AP)—Balked in the Ohio Legislature, CIO officials said today they will ask voters in November to approve a boost in jobless benefits to a maximum of $50 a week for 39 weeks.

The present maximum is $30 for 26 weeks.

Union spokesmen said they planned to circulate petitions in the next 90 days to place the proposal on election ballots. They need 77,934 valid signatures by Aug. 15 to qualify.

President James P. Griffin of the Ohio CIO Council applied to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for petitions.

Officials said they decided to carry their cause to the people after the Legislature failed to act on an initiated bill to increase unemployment compensation.

The union placed its bill before the Legislature by obtaining 95,595 signatures on petitions. Under Ohio law, that required the General Assembly to receive the bill for consideration.

Statute permits the union to get additional signatures and place the proposal before voters if the Legislature fails to act on an initiated bill within four months. The time for such action in the Legislature expired last Tuesday.

The labor - initiated bill has rested in the House Labor and Industry Committee since last Jan. 27. Members have indicated they might "let it lie" there.

The Senate Industry and Labor Committee recently recommended passage of a bill to increase maximum benefits $3 a week to $33 for 26 weeks. That proposal also would boost from $5 to $6 a week the maximum benefits for dependent children of jobless workers.

The CIO-initiated bill proposed a $9 a week maximum for dependents.

Flower Box Falls, Killing Girl, 5

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Playing in a neighbor's yard in nearby Boardman yesterday, 5-year - old Barbara Wansack tried to climb upon a five-foot flower box.

It fell on her, causing her death shortly afterward in a hospital from a lacerated liver. She was the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Wansack.

Jap Rain 'Hot'

NIIGATA, Japan (AP) — Niigata University scientists today said radioactive rain fell Tuesday on the Japan seacoast. They expressed belief it results from the May 5 atomic test in Nevada.

Leroy Galvin Remembered In Scholarship

OXFORD (AP)—Establishment of the Leroy S. Galvin scholarship at Miami University in memory of the late publisher of the Lima News, was announced today.

President John D. Millett said a $10,000 fund was established by Galvin's daughter, Miss Catharine R. Galvin of Lima. It will produce $600 annually for scholarships.

The late Mr. Gavlin was a member of the Class of 1898 at Miami University and was a trustee from 1917 until his death on March 1, 1952.

In addition to the Lima News, Mr. Galvin was affiliated with the Circleville Herald, the Hillsboro Press-Gazette and News - Herald, the Logan News, the Van Wert Times Bulletin, the Washington C. H. Record-Herald and the Wilmington News-Journal.

The first recipient of the four-year scholarship will be John Read Cronin, 18, of New Philadelphia.

He will enter Miami as a pre-law student next fall and will receive $150 yearly. That amount will be sufficient to pay Cronin's registration fee and a part of his additional fees.

Three present Miami University students have been granted the scholarship for the remainder of their stay on the campus, President Millett said. They are Paul J. Pease of Lewisburg, Leigh Van Valen of Cincinnati and Gordon Landis Wise of Piqua.

Heavy Rainfall Hits Dust Bowl

Colorado-Texas Area Given Saturation

DENVER (AP) — The Purgatoire River today spread over Trinidad, Colo., as cries of "too much rain" came from widespread drought areas of the Southwest where dust storms raged only a fortnight ago.

Both business and residential sections were inundated by the flooding river which bisects the railroad mining center. This is in an area from which some of the worst dust storms of the year have blown across the Southwest.

Rain continued after more than 30 hours at Trinidad. The river flooded the main line tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad and knocked out phone lines.

Some 75 National Guardsmen evacuated families from the threatened area. Schools were closed. Water was two feet deep in the railroad station.

Highways were closed to the west and south of Trinidad and near Hoehne, a farming community to the east.

Meanwhile, flood threats around three Texas cities subsided almost as quickly as the sudden cloudbursts that caused them.

* * *

POLICE minimized the danger to the Texas communities, although residents were evacuated from low areas, highways and railroads washed out, and many areas flooded. Damage was slight.

At Ballinger, Brady and Eastland, Tex., they said, "it looks like we've got it whipped. It looks now as if we'll make it." It was still raining, however, at Eastland where more than 11 inches of rain fell in 12 hours.

In southern Oklahoma water ran over curbs and minor flood conditions were reported in Temple, Waurika, Lawton, Frederick, Comanche and Walters.

Colorado received up to 16 inches of snow in the mountains and up to 3 inches of rain across its drought ravaged eastern plains.

A dozen tornadoes skipped over Texas and Oklahoma was under tornado alert much of last night, but little damage was reported and there were no injuries.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

RALPH STEVENSON

Ralph Bently Stevenson died Wednesday afternoon in his home on Ashville Route 1.

Mr. Stevenson, a farmer, was born Jan. 4, 1888 in Circleville, a son of Alexander and Harriett Groce Stevenson. He was preceded in death by his wife, Ann Fischer Stevenson.

Surviving him are: a son, Ralph J. Stevenson of Circleville Route 2; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Ann Stevenson Bresler of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Jane Stevenson Jones of Columbus and Mrs. Martha Stevenson Wells of Ashville; a brother, J. Stanley Stevenson of Kansas City, Kan., and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Bastian Funeral Home of Ashville. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery, Circleville.

Friends may call in the funeral home after 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Local Man Fined As Drunk Driver

A Circleville motorist was handed a belated fine for drunk driving, according to city court reports today.

Turney Clifton, 64, who had been arrested last week for the offense, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to the county jail for three days and had his driving rights suspended for six months. Officer Leroy Hawks had made the arrest.

Others receiving fines included: Troy E. Sabastian, 22, of North Carolina; $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line; arrested by State Patrolman Bob Greene.

Fred Burris Jr., 34, of Newport, Ky.; $5 and costs for passing a red light; arrested by Officer Bob Temple.

Postal Inspectors Halt Race Tickets

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten thousand envelopes mailed in the British West Indies to Chicagoans have been intercepted by postoffice inspectors because they contain tickets for the Jamaica Sweepstakes.

Inspector Jerome Williamson said addressees have been notified to appear at the postoffice Tickets for the sweepstakes, he said, will be confiscated because they were mailed into the United States in violation of federal lottery laws. He said envelopes containing legitimate mail will be turned over to the addressee.

Clock In Tower Enjoys Slow Day

Time and tide wait for no man, they say. But at least the clock in the Pickaway County courthouse tower was giving everybody a good chance to catch up today.

Long noted for the strange things it does on short notice, the stately timekeeper dozed off altogether for awhile this morning. That, any rate, is the only way the startled clock-watchers could explain it when they looked up and saw the tower clock running neatly an hour behind time.

At 20 minutes of 1 o'clock, the clock in the tower was still insisting it was only 13 minutes of noon.

Many a "lunch hour" was really that and then some today, around Court and Franklin.

And if the boss passed any nasty remarks about it, you could always point to the official timepiece.

Adlai Says Dems To Be United Party

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democrats, says Adlai Stevenson, will be a united party in 1956 and he believese "those who have strayed and returned in good faith should be welcomed back to the fold."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said yesterday that for the last two years he had done "all I could to assure a united Democratic party in 1956."

The former Illinois governor, returning from a month-long business trip to Africa, declared:

"I am against loyalty oaths but am very much in favor of loyalty and good faith in politics, and I beleive a delegate who takes part in any Democratic decision-making process bears a serious obligation to abide by the majority decision unless his conscience forbids him to."

Stephen A. Mitchell, the party's former national chairman, recently said a floor fight would be made in the 1956 convention, if necessary, to prevent seating of any or all three Southern Democratic leaders who, after serving as delegates to the 1952 convention which nominated Stevenson, supported Dwight Eisenhower.

Mitchell, advised of Stevenson's statement, said he would predict the convention credentials committee will reject Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, James F. Byrnes, former governor of South Carolina, the 1952 "apostates."

Bulgar Tries Again To Return 'Home'

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Vasil Petroff Svilansky, who came to the United States from Bulgaria in 1939 with a round-trip ticket, will leave Saturday on the long-delayed return journey — unless fate intervenes for the fifth time.

The outbreak of World War II first prevented his return. Then four additional times arrangements were made for the trip back to Communist-dominated Bulgaria. Each time weather or sickness forced cancellation.

Svilansky, 72, says he wants to spend his remaining years with his two sons in Bulgaria.

Boy Finds Hopital Has Poor Memory

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — A group of 75 Cub Scouts visited were shown the delivery room.

Asked if they'd seen that part of the hospital before, Bennie Snidecoar said, "Sure, I was born here."

Then, with mild disappointment, "Don't you remember me?"

Job Situation Growing More Mixed In U.S.

Statistics Showing No Definite Pattern Throughout Nation

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — It's getting harder to recognize your own home town when you read the national statistics.

Trends in jobs and incomes on a nationwide basis often don't fit your own experience or that of your city or region.

The government says, for instance, that today 61,685,000 Americans have jobs. That's 35 per cent more than in 1939. If you live in some states you know that the increase has been much less than that. If you live in some others—along the Pacific Coast, in the industrial Midwest or in the Rocky Mountain area — you know the national figure understates the gains.

And if you are a farm worker, you know there are 25 per cent fewer jobs for you today than in 1939. If you're one of the three million out of work, all "prosperity" stories may rub your hair the wrong way.

Government figures for the nation as a whole put annual income at $1,660 per person. That's 208 per cent better than in 1939 — but only if you don't take into account what has happened to the purchasing power of the dollar in the last 15 years. If you put today's income in terms of the "1939 dollar", the gain is a more modest one of 53 per cent.

Yet that's for the nation as a whole. In five sections of the land per capita incomes are lower than the national average. In four sections they are higher.

Or take nonfarm jobs. There has been an increase of 59 per cent over-all in the last 15 years. But that doesn't mean that jobs in your particular field are that much more plentiful.

Actually, there are 10 per cent fewer employed in mining than in 1939. But there are 138 per cent more jobs in the construction industry now than then.

Governments at the various levels, as you might suspect, hire 71 per cent more people now than 15 years ago. Trade and service jobs are right on the middle line — each having increased by 59 per cent. Jobs in financial institutions are up 53 per cent and 40 per cent more have work in transportion and utility companies.

Regional differences, as broken down by Dun & Bradstreet, are even more striking.

The New England states have seen a 28 per cent rise in total employment, the best gain being 90 per cent in construction — but both are below the national average. Per capital income of $1,785, however, is better than average.

The Mid Atlantic states of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey show employment up 34 per cent, with construction jobs leading at 106 per cent, and per capita income the highest in the union at $1,975.

The east north central states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin have a 42 per cent rise in employment, construction jobs up 176 per cent and per capita income $1,880 — all topping the national average.

The west north central states of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, South and North Dakota, had an employment gain of 27 per cent, with construction up the most at 132 per cent and per capita income of $1,525 — all three below the national average.

The southern Atlantic Coast tier —Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida — added 30 per cent more jobs in 15 years, but finance shows the biggest increase with 112 per cent. Per capita income is below average at $1,350.

East south central states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi show the lowest employment gain, 15 per cent. Construction leads at 140 per cent. Per capita income of $1,070 is the lowest for any region, by Dun & Bradstreet's tell.

West south central states—Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma —see 30 per cent more employed today, with construction again the strongest, up 152 per cent. Per capita incomes are the second lowest at $1,330.

The Rocky Mountain tier — New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho — show a 40 per cent gain in total jobs. The biggest jump is in financial work, up 162 per cent, with construction second at 160 per cent. Per capital income of $1,530 is under the average.

The Pacific Coast states of California, Oregon and Washington have striking gains: total jobs up 79 per cent; construction up 196 per cent, manufacturing jobs up 149 per cent; governmental jobs up 142 per cent—all tops for any region. Per capital incomes of $1,950 was second only to the mid Atlantic trio.

So it depends on where you live and what you do — and even so you won't fit "the average" exactly.

Minister's True Life Story More Exciting Than Fiction

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Edwards' This Is Your Life on NBC defies generalization or a definition that will stick from week to week.

There are times it borders on the morbid and maudlin as guests under deep emotional strain are exposed to nationwide view by TV camera closeup.

But on other occasions, Edwards comes up with human drama as warm and as exciting as anything likely to be seen in fiction. Such an occasion was the presentation of the life of Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto, who organized the campaign that has brought 25 girl victims of the Hiroshima atomic blast to the United States for plastic surgery.

The eyewitness story of the first atomic destruction of a city, in the Rev. Mr. Tanimoto's words, has a personalized touch that never could be equaled in a dramatized recreation of the event.

And there was drama enough in the first meeting of Tanimoto, who experienced the A - bombing from the ground, and Capt. Robert Lewis, who copiloted the plane that dropped the bomb and wrote afterward in his log, "My God, what have we done?" Capt. Lewis presented a check representing his and fellow crew members' contributions to the fund for medical treatment of Hiroshima blast victims.

Some critics have questioned whether Edwards' guests are unaware they're to be starred until he informs them on the air. And some have questioned the propriety of exposing persons under emotional strain to nationwide view. But whatever the case for or against the surprise at the start, Edwards' show on occasion can be fascinating and delightful.

58 Poles Killed In Movie Blaze

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A Warsaw paper reported Wednesday that 58 persons were burned to death and more than 200 others injured in a fire which broke out in a movie designed to hold 90 persons.

The newspaper Trybuna Ludu said the disaster occurred last week at Wielopolo, a village in southern Poland, in a schoolroom converted for film showing.

Youths Drink More If Home Nips Offered

NEW YORK (AP)—Studies released here indicate that high school students permitted alcoholic beverages at home, drink much more when away from home.

The research findings were presented at the annual conference of state liquor administrators.

One report showed that students in Nassau County, N. Y., allowed to drink at home, imbibe about twice as much when out. Another survey showed "the few Kansas high school students who drink either regular beer or hard liquor during an average week, drink about 12 times as much away from home as they drink at home."

The reports said that if parents do not want their children to drink "they can greatly increase the probability of getting their wish if they themselves abstain."

The reports on teen-age drinking were by Drs. Marston M. McCluggage, University of Kansas sociology professor: John L. Miller, University of Wisconsin sociology professor, and Matthew N. Chappell, psychology professor at Hofstra College.

The Mid Atlantic states of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey show employment up 34 per cent, with construction jobs leading at 106 per cent, and per capita income the highest in the union at $1,975.

The east north central states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin have a 42 per cent rise in employment, construction jobs up 176 per cent and per capita income $1,880 — all topping the national average.

The west north central states of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, South and North Dakota, had an employment gain of 27 per cent, with construction up the most at 132 per cent and per capita income of $1,525 — all three below the national average.

The southern Atlantic Coast tier —Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida — added 30 per cent more jobs in 15 years, but finance shows the biggest increase with 112 per cent. Per capita income is below average at $1,350.

East south central states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi show the lowest employment gain, 15 per cent. Construction leads at 140 per cent. Per capita income of $1,070 is the lowest for any region, by Dun & Bradstreet's tell.

West south central states—Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma —see 30 per cent more employed today, with construction again the strongest, up 152 per cent. Per capita incomes are the second lowest at $1,330.

The Rocky Mountain tier — New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho — show a 40 per cent gain in total jobs. The biggest jump is in financial work, up 162 per cent, with construction second at 160 per cent. Per capital income of $1,530 is under the average.

The Pacific Coast states of California, Oregon and Washington have striking gains: total jobs up 79 per cent; construction up 196 per cent, manufacturing jobs up 149 per cent; governmental jobs up 142 per cent—all tops for any region. Per capital incomes of $1,950 was second only to the mid Atlantic trio.

So it depends on where you live and what you do — and even so you won't fit "the average" exactly.

Minister's True Life Story More Exciting Than Fiction

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Edwards' This Is Your Life on NBC defies generalization or a definition that will stick from week to week.

There are times it borders on the morbid and maudlin as guests under deep emotional strain are exposed to nationwide view by TV camera closeup.

But on other occasions, Edwards comes up with human drama as warm and as exciting as anything likely to be seen in fiction. Such an occasion was the presentation of the life of Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto, who organized the campaign that has brought 25 girl victims of the Hiroshima atomic blast to the United States for plastic surgery.

The eyewitness story of the first atomic destruction of a city, in the Rev. Mr. Tanimoto's words, has a personalized touch that never could be equaled in a dramatized recreation of the event.

And there was drama enough in the first meeting of Tanimoto, who experienced the A - bombing from the ground, and Capt. Robert Lewis, who copiloted the plane that dropped the bomb and wrote afterward in his log, "My God, what have we done?" Capt. Lewis presented a check representing his and fellow crew members' contributions to the fund for medical treatment of Hiroshima blast victims.

Some critics have questioned whether Edwards' guests are unaware they're to be starred until he informs them on the air. And some have questioned the propriety of exposing persons under emotional strain to nationwide view. But whatever the case for or against the surprise at the start, Edwards' show on occasion can be fascinating and delightful.

58 Poles Killed In Movie Blaze

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A Warsaw paper reported Wednesday that 58 persons were burned to death and more than 200 others injured in a fire which broke out in a movie designed to hold 90 persons.

The newspaper Trybuna Ludu said the disaster occurred last week at Wielopolo, a village in southern Poland, in a schoolroom converted for film showing.

Youths Drink More If Home Nips Offered

NEW YORK (AP)—Studies released here indicate that high school students permitted alcoholic beverages at home, drink much more when away from home.

The research findings were presented at the annual conference of state liquor administrators.

One report showed that students in Nassau County, N. Y., allowed to drink at home, imbibe about twice as much when out. Another survey showed "the few Kansas high school students who drink either regular beer or hard liquor during an average week, drink about 12 times as much away from home as they drink at home."

The reports said that if parents do not want their children to drink "they can greatly increase the probability of getting their wish if they themselves abstain."

The reports on teen-age drinking were by Drs. Marston M. McCluggage, University of Kansas sociology professor: John L. Miller, University of Wisconsin sociology professor, and Matthew N. Chappell, psychology professor at Hofstra College.

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is one of the latest wonderings in the present Washington guessing game about the Russians: Are they anxious for a belt of neutral nations straight down the middle of Europe?

President Eisenhower was asked about it at his news conference Wednesday. He didn't add much light. He said: "There seems to be developing the thought that there might be built up a series of neutralized states. . ."

A look at a map of Europe shows four nations—Sweden, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia—lying in a slanting north-south line west of the Russian-dominated countries.

Two of them—Sweden and Austria — are already neutral. Last week Russia let Austria have her independence with the guarantee she would remain neutral.

That leaves Germany and Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia was linked with Moscow from the end of the war until 1948 when Marshal Tito broke with Stalin. Since Stalin's death his successors have tried to woo Tito with soft talk.

Since his split with Stalin, Tito has received many millions of dollars of economic and military aid from the United States. And he put Yugoslavia into a military alliance with Greece and Turkey.

Both are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which makes them allies of the United States, also in NATO. Yugoslavia is not a NATO member. And Tito insists he is neutral between East and West.

Last Friday the Russians announced Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Khrushchev would go to Yugoslavia to talk with Tito. Why? They say just to establish normal relations.

But Washington wondered: Would they try to win back Tito so that he was no longer neutral but a Russian ally? And, if they couldn't do that, would they try to get a guarantee of neutrality from him?

The Russians, holding East Germany since the war, have tried by threats, propaganda and maneuvering to keep Western Germany disarmed and out of NATO. Germany isn't rearmed yet but she has just joined NATO with plans to raise 12 divisions.

Gen. Alfred Gruenther, NATO's supreme commander, has said that without the help of Germany's armed forces, he doubts a Russian attack could be stopped.

But the Russians know the longing of the West Germans for unification with East Germany. On May 11 Bulganin held out bait to the West Germans. He said "unification" was possible if there was "good will."

Were the Russians going to offer reunification with this price tag: that a unified Germany would agree to remain unarmed and neutral and, therefore, not a member of NATO? Maybe.

If the Russians could keep Germany neutralized it would be, in case of war, the equivalent of a great military victory. The Russians may hope that, with the hope of unification, the Germans will not raise forces for NATO.

Abraham Lincoln was noted as a wrestler in his youth.

London Hears Reds Halt H-Bomb Work

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express says that Allied intelligence chiefs believe the Russians may have suspended work on the hydrogen bomb.

The paper said the belief arose because Soviet scientists have not tested any improved version of the experimental H-bomb they exploded in August 1953.

"This weapon," the paper's science writer said, "had the power of only one million tons of TNT, compared with the 15 million ton punch of the U. S. hydrogen bomb.

"Allied experts believe that the Russians would be unlikely to build up stocks of this weapon without trying to improve it. And improvement could not be achieved without at least one further test explosion."

Presbyterians Eye Lady Ministers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A proposal that women be admitted to the Presbyterian ministry was endorsed today by the national head of the church.

Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of Maryville (Tenn.) College and moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., also called for churchwide nonsegregation.

Dr. Lloyd reported that unification of the three Presbyterian church groups must be postponed. He said approval was not given by the Presbyterian Church in The United States. The unification was voted by the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the United Presbyterian Church.

Ex-Federal Aide Cleared By Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Welburn Mayock, former general counsel of the Democratic National Committee, appealed to the federal grand jury in connection with a complaint alleging tax evasion.

U. S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters said the complaint, issued last April 4, will be dismissed.

Mayock, a Washington and Los Angeles attorney, signed a waiver of immunity and appeared voluntarily before the grand jury to deny that he evaded $25,716 in taxes due on income of himself and his wife for 1948.

Butler County Home Rapped At Hearing

HAMILTON (AP)—A witness in a Civil Service Commission hearing yesterday described the Butler County Home as a "house of the living dead." He said he visited a 93-year-old resident and found the bed dirty and an "awful odor" prevailing.

The witness, George Brandel of Hamilton, testified in the hearing on dismissal of Paul J. Mehl as home superintendent. Mehl, who says his dismissal was unjust, claims he is a "scapegoat."

Mehl claims county commissioners long had been familiar with the institution's condition.

No Burglar Alarm On Police Station

DAYTON (AP)—Dayton has decided not to put a private burglar alarm system in its new Safety Building.

City officials killed such a proposal after City Commissioner Howard R. Malone asked why it was necessary to put a burglar alarm in a building to be occupied by police 24 hours a day.

"If that isn't the silliest thing," Commissioner Malone commented. "We might as well hire the burglar alarm people to protect the city and do away with the cops."

Farm Extension Service

Suggestions from the plentiful foods for the current shopping list are: beef, veal, fryers or broilers, homegrown asparagus and rhubarb, grapefruit, pineapples, milk and cheese.

Broilers or fryers are normally a "good buy" "because of efficient farm production. Supplies are abundant and prices are reasonable this month. Recent government figures show that average retail prices of chicken increased less than most other meats from 1935-39 to 1950-53.

Poultry belongs to the bird subdivision of the animal kingdom. There are more than 100 breeds of chickens in four main classes—American, Asiatic, English, Mediterranean. Today, chickens are produced on more farms and ranches than any other class of livestock.

Poultry is no longer a luxury dish. When the broiler industry applied modern methods of production, the broiler increased in United States to more than 800 million commercial broilers per year. Since it takes only 12 to 14 weeks to raise and market a batch of broilers, prices can vary widely during a year.

* * *

THE NUTRITIVE value of poultry meat compares well with red meats. It has very high quality proteins and also good amounts of the B vitamins. Iron, calcium and phosphorus are also supplied; the liver is especially high in iron.

The retail store may use the term "broiler or fryer" to designate a chicken from any weight up to around 3 to 4½ pounds.

(The term "roasting chicken" means a young chicken of around 4½ to 6 pounds — or a bird up to less than a year old still soft meated.)

Young chickens have a much greater proportion of bone to the amount of meat. Therefore, the heavier weights are the best buys.

Quality birds will always show some deposit of fat on the skin surface. When shopping for broilers and fryers, look for flexible breast bone; soft, pliable, smooth textured skin, well fleshed breast and legs.

* * *

A LOT OF poultry used to be sold live to the consumer. Processing—geting birds ready for the over—was done in the home. Now we have predominantly whole birds beautifully dressed and ready for the oven, or cut-up chicken.

There is no one answer to the question, "which should the homemaker buy, whole or cut-up chicken?" Convenience as well as skill are to be considered.

Some homemakers find it difficult to cut up the birds so that the pieces are in good shape. Sometimes this is due to not having a sharp knife. Other times it is due to not knowing the anatomy of the bird.

Many families like to buy chicken by the piece—all breasts or thighs, etc. This method is usually more expensive, especially if all thighs, breasts or legs are purchased.

Buying cup-up chicken enables one to cater to family preferences for one piece or another. In the small family, the purchase of these cut-up pieces may be an advantage; this gives enough for one meal, and no thought need be given to use of left-overs.

* * *

FOR STORING until preparation time, wrap a fresh, drawn chicken loosely in an aluminum foil or moisture-proof paper and refrigerate. It will keep 1-3 days at 36 degrees F. Keep chicken frozen until ready to use and thaw in the refrigerator, just before cooking, in its original wrapper (12-24 hours) or, place in a pan of running cool water ½ to 2 hours—still in the wrapper.

Chicken is one of the most versatile meats. Its mild flavor makes it an excellent food to combine many other foods to stretch the food dollar. The older chicken may be stewed or fricasseed; it may be served alone or stripped from the bones and combined with noodles, macaroni, spaghetti or rice. The meat may be used in salads.

When preparing the rice, macaroni or spaghetti to combine with the chicken, you can prevent that "usual" boiling over by greasing the top of the kettle or pan inside around the inside rim. Boliing water does not pass the greased ring.

Beef and veal prices are on the way down because more cattle are being slaughtered. The total meat consumption per person for 1955 now forecasts at 158 pounds or 4 pounds more than last year.

Army Building Rocket Sites In 'Backyards' Across U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, embarked on a $1 billion program of building Nike sites, is seeking to reassure communities nervous over closeby installation of the deadly antiaircraft missiles.

Partly for this purpose, the Army yesterday took newsmen to a new Nike site at Lorton, Va., part of the antiaircraft defenses of the capital, about 16 miles to the north.

Maj. Gen. Gilman C. Mudgett, chief of Army information, told the newsmen the Nike "is being literally installed in the back yards of householders all over the nation."

And Brig. Gen. R. R. Hendrix, commander of the Washington-Baltimore Nike defense area, said this "has touched off some knotty problems."

"As you may know," he said, "Army engineers have met with some strong resistance during the process of acquiring real estate for Nike sites. Some local communities have not been at all in sympathy with our program, particularly in land matters or in the stationing of troops in residential areas."

Hendrix contended a Nike site "is not dangerous, but as safe as a gas station; as important to security and as much a part of the local community as the police and fire departments."

There was no mention at the news conference of an incident a month ago when a Nike missile at Ft. Meade, Md., was fired accidentally, falling onto a usually heavily traveled highway but without injury or damage.

The Nike battery at Lorton is typical of others built or being built at more than 15 cities. Eventually, Hendrix said, the Nike system will be extended to "all our large industrial and population centers."

Army spokesmen said land and construction for a Nike site costs, on an average, about $1 million.

The weapons themselves cost between $20,000 and $25,000 each. Army officials estimate the entire program will take several years to complete and will cost upwards of $1 billion.

The Lorton site is an underground installation which, when completed, will have 12 launchers and 24-foot-deep concrete caverns to house the missiles.

In a "dry-run" demonstration, newsmen saw the white, pencil-shaped Nikes (each weighs a ton, is 20 feet long and one foot thick) whisked up from underground, shoved onto launching racks and pointed skyward, ready for firing.

The general said the Nike "is capable of outmaneuvering and destroying any type aircraft presently known and foreseeable for the immediate future."

Student Follows Teacher's Order

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Loretto Bonner, a teacher at Taft Junior High School, noticed one of her students struggling with a piece of candy he was chewing.

"Either swallow the candy or toss it in the wastepaper basket," she advised the youth.

"Can't," said the lad, "The candy is stuck to my teeth."

Jokingly, Mrs. Bonner told the yourgster: "Well, toss your teeth in the basket with the candy."

The boy took out his teeth and threw them into the basket. He had a complete upper plate.

Top Negro Woman Leader, 79, Dies

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, 79, who rose from a plantation background to found Bethune-Cookman College here and become one of the best known Negro women of her time, died here last night.

Reider To Seek Governor's Post

COLUMBUS (AP)—Robert W. Reider of Port Clinton will seek the Democratic nomination for Ohio governor whether Gov. Frank Lausche seeks it or not.

"Lausche has never had strong opposition in his own party," Reider said. "It is high time the Democrats stood up to be counted instead of allowing Lausche to continue under a pseudo Democratic label."

The 39-year-old Reider, publisher of the weekly Ottawa County News, was a member of the Ohio House in the 1949, 1951 and 1953 sessions. Last fall he ran against the Republican secretary of state, Ted W. Brown.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

LONG AND SHORT VIEWS

THERE ARE reports of contradictory American reactions to the South Viet Nam civil war. In dispatches from Saigon where Premier Diem has at least temporarily ousted Emperor Bao Dai, Ambassador J. Lawton Collins is said to favor the retention of a constitutional monarchy with the playboy monarch remaining in the saddle.

But from Paris comes word that Secretary Dulles refuses to see Bao's intermediaries pleading for his restoration. But it is expected that he will talk to representatives of Diem who is seeking to replace French colonialism with representative government.

This isn't the first time that the U. S. has been caught between two fires of going along with the colonial status quo because it spells out short term stability or exspousing the cause of nationalism that squares with American instincts and traditional aspirations.

South Viet Nam today is a battle front in two senses of the word—as a buffer against further red expansion and in the cold war of isms in which all Asia has a stake. It is not simply a question of stabilizing the immediate situation—it is necessary to plan for the long pull of keeping the immediate situation—it is necessary to plan for the long pull of keeping Asia free. Continuing Bao on an absentee throne hardly seems the way to win.

TAX REDUCTION MIRAGE

A "FEELER" has been put out in Washington to the effect that taxes will be reduced next year, and there will be more hints of this sort to build up the general impression that lower taxes are inevitable and it is merely a coincidence that next year is an election year. The populace is to be sold on the idea that lowering taxes next year will not be an act of the utmost irresponsibility.

But the reduction will be so minute that it will probably result in 10 or 20 cents more take-home pay for the average wage-earner. With government outlays increasing, no real tax reduction is in the cards, only the illusion of lower taxes.

In fact, lower taxes next year or for at least several years are a mirage that will continue to tantalize the taxpayers. If there is a reduction of a few cents in federal taxes, state and local taxes will increase sufficiently to more than wipe out the reduction. The average American will pay more in taxes next year than this, and more the following year than in 1956.

Taxes are not in the same category as the national debt, which was once described by a rabid spender as something 'we owe to ourselves." Taxes are owed to the tax collector, and he has a heart of stone. But columns upon columns of space in the newspapers will be devoted to the subject of "tax reduction" in the immediate future, and unless the American public is less gullible than politicians give it credit for being, a segment thereof will swallow the bait.

GERMAN TEMPTATION

WEST GERMANY'S temptations, in the face of Russian overtures which seem to pledge a reunited, neutralized Germany, are tremendous. The general population does not want to shoulder an arms burden that would increase taxes loftily.

Thousands of West Germans have ancestral homes in East Germany or relatives living there under red rule. All Germans figure reunion would balance the economy and lift the nation to higher economic levels.

So strong are German suspicions of Moscow that many of them are saying that if American military forces were compelled to withdraw from reunited Germany, they would still be in Europe to protect Germany against Russian attack. That does not follow.

If the Germans aren't sure of a liberated East Germany, they will be chumps to fall for any Russian siren songs that could only mean the final overrunning of all Germany by the reds.

In fact, Cornell is famous for its Agricultural College which is one of the best in the country.

However the blight of our age has come there as elsewhere. So a local lawyer, Robert V. Morse, started the "Ithaca Reading Room Against Communism" which is attracting attention not only for its title but for the work that it is doing. Many have visited that Reading Room to study its methods so that the same kind of institution can be started elsewhere.

Mr. Morse did not worry about a formal organization. He merely hired a store, put up a sign, called for volunteers, and went ahead. Money came in but in very small amounts, which did not discourage him at all. The local bank lent, him a little and many people sent books, pamphlets, etc.

The interesting thing about it is that having conceived the idea, just plain citizen Morse went ahead and the reason he went ahead was that he knew that many of the boys and girls who came to Ithaca were delicately and not too obviously being given one side of the story on the virtues of Marxism, Socialism, Communism, etc.

It cannot be said that Cornell is any different from any other college—not better and not worse—but in these days of conformity, it is what some call to the Left of Center—a meaningless phrase but highly descriptive—that is fashionable. All that Morse runs is a reading room, and it is a one-sided reading room.

The literature is all against Communism and its various supports. If one wants to read pro-Communist literature, it is to be found elsewhere. By being frankly what he is and carefully avoiding any suggestion of impartiality, Morse is able to stand on his own feet without hyprocrisy. It is an interesting experiment.

Quite apart from its bias against Communism, the experiment of setting up a one-sided reading room is a good one because it gets into circulation books, magazines and pamphlets which are otherwise buried in the avalanche of material that comes off the printing presses these days.

For instance, the Congressional committees publish their hearings and reports which are enormous in volume and usually make very dull reading. Press digests of these hearings and reports are generally unsatisfactory because they are too condensed. Students should read the entire document, as boresome as it may be.

Also, many books that are published today are journalistic rather than scholarly. They represent an instant appraisal of an immediate situation. Some of them are

DIET AND HEALTH

Ulcer Victim Should Follow Careful Diet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IF you have an ulcer, you must be careful of what you eat.

Avoid foods with a lot of indigestible roughage, which might scratch your ulcer. Stay away from anything which will stimulate formation of acid gastric juice, such as alcohol, coffee, spices and condiments.

Your doctor can recommend any of several diets, depending upon the severity of your condition. If your ulcer is acting up, naturally, you'll eat a little differently than if it is dormant.

I think your physician would advise the following strict diet during brief periods of ulcer symptoms or immediately after your distress has subsided:

Foods Permitted

Cereal: Cooked oatmeal, farina, rice, refined corn.

Bread: Hard rolls, white crackers, white or fine rye bread as dry toast.

Soup: Cream soup made with purée of the following vegetables: asparagus, beans (not dried), carrots, celery, corn, peas (not dried), potato, spinach, squash.

Fruit: Four tablespoons of orange juice diluted with an equal amount of water daily; 2 servings daily of ripe banana, canned, baked or stewed apples; apricots, cherries, peaches, pears, purée of dried fruit—all without seeds or skin.

Vegetable: Cooked or canned asparagus, beets, carrots, peas, spinach, string beans, squash. One serving daily.

Potato or Substitute: Potato (not fried), refined rice, spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, lima bean purée, corn purée.

Eggs or Cheese: Cottage or cream cheese, eggs simply prepared (not fried).

Fat: Cream, butter or one of its substitutes.

Sugar: Sugar in moderate amounts.

Beverage: Milk, malted milk, chocolate milk, buttermilk, eggnog, decaffeinated coffee, cereal beverage.

Dessert: Ice cream, custards, gelatin desserts, rennet desserts, rice pudding, tapioca cream, prune or apricot whip, vanilla wafers, plain sugar cookies, sponge and angel food cakes. No fruit or nuts on desserts.

Miscellaneous: Salt, cream sauce.

Avoid all other foods, including all meats, fish, fowl, gravy and carbonated beverages.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

W. J. B., Sr.: Can you tell me what causes a severe burning sensation in my small toe, which I get only after retiring? I am 79.

Answer: The condition you describe is probably due to some disturbance in the blood circulation. This might occur in a case of hardening of the arteries, and is known as Buerger's Disease.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

IT WAS rehearsal night in the Blue room. Landon had been onstage most of the evening, and she ached with tiredness.

After all, she thought, it's only a play—even if the drama festival's trophy for Windermere's Little Theatre would be a high honor!

But Eric was merciless and indefatigable. The one scene. The love scene in the garden. Line by line, word by word, gesture by gesture, with Eric alternately shouting at them and—worse—sitting back, pained and patient, with his eyes closed. Tom Reynolds looked as if he would splinter at a touch. And a fine mood for a love scene I'm in! Landon thought. She was tired. She wanted to go home to bed.

Eric walked over, spoke to them softly. "This scene has to be smoothed out. The whole thing pivots on it. All I want is some honesty and feeling in you." Sarcasm slid into the soft conversational tone, directed point-blank at Tom Reynolds. "Haven't you ever kissed a girl before?"

"It's that soppy line before the kiss!" Tom lashed back furiously. "It'd throw a Lothario. I'm no great lover—but that line is corn, pure corn."

Eric jumped up on the stage with them. "Think, Tom. Think what you are trying to say to this girl. You are trying to give her assurance of your power to love her. You have to make her feel she can be loved. You are trying to make her feel part of the moonlight and summertime, part of all the glittering magic of poetry and legend. She is young and defenseless and tender, and you are strong and ardent enough to bring her alive. That's what I want."

Tom Reynolds smile was thin; he nodded.

"Don't jerk her into your arms. You'll scare her off," Eric said. "You've got to be gentle—like this."

What happened was totally unexpected, yet so in sequence, so contextual, that Landon for all her tiredness found herself responding naturally, unquestioningly, to the pull of Eric's arms around her, drawing her slowly, slowly to him. There was a moment; something in Landon that knew and did not want to know. A last possible moment of protecting herself from not knowing. Then her eyes widened, wonderingly. And with a sigh she closed them. Her lashes rested heavily on her cheeks. A wild rejoicing, clamoring pulse beat through her body. There was the rush and lift of great high-climbing wings, a flood of unbearable sunlight rushing over her body . . . No! Her eyes flew open, wide, illuminated . . . and suddenly horrified.

Tom Reynolds was grinning widely. "Bravo!" he applauded.

Eric ran his hands up sheepishly through his hair. "I'm no Tyrone Power—but that's about the way it should go. Try it again, will you? Once more?"

But it was no good. Everyone knew it was no good. And, Eric, finally aware of fidgetings from the rest of the cast, made gesture breaking it up. "You are tired," he said. "We're all tired. Let's all go home to bed."

He didn't look at Landon. None of them did, and it was just as well.

The drive home was unbearable. Landon pressed herself back in her corner, away from Eric, staring straight ahead through the windshield, unable to bear to look at him. She said words that meant nothing to her, forcibly dragging up responses to his oblivious, easy conversation. Yes, Eric. No, Eric. Yes, I'll order fuel oil tomorrow. No, Merry-o's allowance is adequate, I think. The words for her actual thoughts, stranglingly held back, would have shaken Eric out of his complacence. You! Everything in the world I want. You, Maggie's husband. He would think it was horrible. And it was. It was monstrous, like some nightmare. Only she wasn't going to wake up and be free of it. She was going to have to live with it, if she could.

In her room, she leaned back against the door and closed her eyes. Her hands lifted, felt her face—as if betrayal must surely have carved crevices in the familiar contours. Certainly it had altered everything else. For loyalty was life. Loyalty to friends, to things beautiful and good . . . to Maggie.

She walked over to the bed and dropped down on it. I'll have to go away. I can't stay here, now. But she couldn't go away. Not possibly. Tears came, and she pushed them back with her hand. She mustn't even cry. Eric might hear her, or Gran. In the morning they would ask her what she had been crying about—and what could she say to them?

* * *

Eric picked his way gingerly down the ice-crusted steps of the university library. As usual, December was a month of jangled elements. Windermere was in the middle of a 50-mile snowbelt; a winter that wasn't blustery and sleet-raked was an aberration. But Eric, shifting his armful of books to turn up his collar, decided glumly that he had never known a worse December.

An unvaried routine of work and research could not fill his time altogether; his occasional nights out only stressed the flatness of diversion without Maggie. Landon tried to help. But, although, her being here had certainly diminished his worries, she had baffled him lately. She'd lost her first bounce. A spontaneity in her had died. She had become watchful of him, almost timid with him. What was it? And when had the change in her begun? Eric searched his memory, but it gave him no clue.

Merry-o, too. Exasperating beyond reason, these days. Selfish as a little savage, wilfully flaunting authority, glowering like a thundercloud at Landon, obviously hating herself and all the world . . . but why?

Life was progressing, but not along altogether satisfactory lines.

The trouble, he told himself, was Christmas. Maggie was its keynote, and without her all the Yuletide festivities were meaningless.

"Hi!" called Bill Kennedy, from the steps of the Physics building.

Eric jerked up his head and wheeled. Too quickly. He lost his precarious footing on the ice and crashed down.

Bill gave Eric a strong pull up, clapped his hat back on, collected far-flung books.

"Thanks," said Eric. He tested his arms and legs experimentally. "All I need—" aggrievedly—"is a busted leg. With Gran convalescing and Maggie at Breck, that would cap it."

"You need a drink," Bill decided. "There's some at our place. Come along. You got your car? Judith has ours."

"Over here," Eric nodded.

They had to wait for the defroster to clear the glass.

"Maggie is coming home for Christmas, is she? Bill asked.

"Yep."

"Time's a-moving."

"Seven months to go."

"Long?"

"A breeze," said Eric ironically.

Bill Kennedy said, "She loves you, anyway. That's something. Everything, I guess. Know something? My wife doesn't love me."

Eric said, "Are you kidding? She married you, didn't she?"

"You have certainly heard of rebounds," Bill said. "Judith was crazy about Jarvis Ireland. Did you know that?"

"Ye gods, all the co-eds were. The college football star, all that money, and charm thrown in as a bonus. All the gals went through a stage of hero-worshipping Jarv. They got over it, after commencement."

"I guess," said Bill, looking unhappy.

The car skidded sideways to a stop before the Kennedy's two-story yellow brick house. A twinge of unease that a drink swishing around in Bill's mind might bring on more unwanted confidences kept Eric from going in.

* * *

Queer, you could be right in the ebb and flow of lives around you and have no inkling of their true direction and meaning. Eric switched on the car radio. Someone was singing "The Old Spinning Wheel." One of Maggie's favorites. He turned the volume up.

Tonight, he would go through the albums and dig out all her pet records. The ache of loneliness was miraculously gone. Why? It was something that struck deep, into the core of his emotions. She loves you; that's everything. And it was. Why rub himself raw over seven months when they would have the rest of their lives together?

Hubby-Worship, Poor Idea --By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Would it help cut the divorce rate in America if every year we had a week dedicated to husband worship?

A hundred Hindu wives in India recently completed a five-day festival of husband worship. In one ceremony during the festival each wife washed her husband's feet, and a Hindu mystic expressed hope this rite "will end divorce."

Well, it was a heart warming thought. But would it work here? Many foreigners feel America's high divorce rate stems from the fact the ladies have too much power in this country, that a wife loses respect for a husband she can wear like a watch-fob or dangle like a marionette.

After all, we do celebrate things like National Dill Pickle Month. Why not set aside one measly week a year for husband worship? That would still leave us 51 weeks of wife worship—surely enough to keep any reasonable woman happy.

So, fired up with the heady prospects of launching America's first annual Worship Your Husband Week, I broached the project to a guy I know whom everybody calls "the oldtimer." He is wise in the ways of marriage, a combat veteran scarred but unbroken by a 30-year tour of duty on the same matrimonial battlefront.

Somewhat to my surprise, the oldtimer, after listening to my proposal, immediately threw cold water on it.

"Son, I know it sounds like heaven," he said, "but that's why it won't work. Heaven don't work on earth."

"You mean you wouldn't enjoy having your wife worship you for a week out of every year?" I asked.

"Lord a-mighty, no!" he thundered. "I don't know how those Hindu men stood it, having their womenfolk coming around worshipping 'em and a-washin their feet for five whole days. Father's Day is almost more than I can bear, with my wife and kids behaving like simpering idiots seeing me for the first time. You haven't thought this thing through."

"I don't get you," I murmured. "How?"

"Well for one thing, I bet you think American wives would resent a husband worshipping week and holler against having to wash the old man's feet, like Hindu ladies."

"Of course, they'd holler."

"That's how little you know about women," said the oldtimer. "Why, they'd go for it like a weasel goes for hen eggs.

"The wives would be fighting to show how much they worshipped their husbands. Every home soon would have a gilded bowl—something like the old shaving mugs—inscribed, 'Dear Daddykins—his tootsie bath.'

"They'd have all kinds of precious papa foot soaps on the market — perfumed naturally. Wives would be trading foot bath recipes, and there'd be national televised contests to pick America's leading foot-washing wife."

"Don't you think that's a bit overdrawn, oldtimer?"

"Not at all," he replied. "A husband worship week would be one long hell. A man couldn't move. He'd be so smothered in feminine adulation he'd be like a fly in a barrel of molasses. And that's the way his wife would like to have him.

"Son, when you worship something, it becomes your prisoner. Nothing with any sense really likes being worshipped. That's why women enjoy it. I fought my wife for 20 years before I found out the secret of how to beat her—which was, to worship her.

"I quit being her slave the day I told her I worshipped her. I've been telling her that ever since. When you keep telling a woman you worship her, she has to let you have your own way for fear you'll stop telling her."

Bennett Cerf's

Try, Stop Me

From Phyllis McGinley's "Love Letters," three devastating descriptions of certain venerable parties:

1. The old Reformer: "Few friend he kept that pleased his mind.-His marriage failed when it began,-Who worked unceasing for mankind,-But loathed his fellow man."
2. The Old Actor: 'Too lined for Hamlet, on the whole;-For tragic Lear, too coarsely built,-Himself becomes his favorite role-Played daily to the hilt."
3. The Old Philantropist: "His millions make museums bright;-Harvard anticipates his will;-While his young typist weeps at night-Over a druggist's bill."

There's no trouble selling a great classic, even in screen form, if the pitch is right. The proprietor of a movie house in a mining town did absolute capacity with "Julius Caesar." "It was easy," he boasted to Sid Skolsky. "I just advertised it as a straightforward, wonderful gangster story."

In England, there's a time of year known as St. Luke's summer that corresponds to Indian summer in the United States.

LONG AND SHORT VIEWS

THERE ARE reports of contradictory American reactions to the South Viet Nam civil war. In dispatches from Saigon where Premier Diem has at least temporarily ousted Emperor Bao Dai, Ambassador J. Lawton Collins is said to favor the retention of a constitutional monarchy with the playboy monarch remaining in the saddle.

But from Paris comes word that Secretary Dulles refuses to see Bao's intermediaries pleading for his restoration. But it is expected that he will talk to representatives of Diem who is seeking to replace French colonialism with representative government.

This isn't the first time that the U. S. has been caught between two fires of going along with the colonial status quo because it spells out short term stability or exspousing the cause of nationalism that squares with American instincts and traditional aspirations.

South Viet Nam today is a battle front in two senses of the word—as a buffer against further red expansion and in the cold war of isms in which all Asia has a stake. It is not simply a question of stabilizing the immediate situation—it is necessary to plan for the long pull of keeping the immediate situation—it is necessary to plan for the long pull of keeping Asia free. Continuing Bao on an absentee throne hardly seems the way to win.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

IT WAS rehearsal night in the Blue room. Landon had been onstage most of the evening, and she ached with tiredness.

After all, she thought, it's only a play—even if the drama festival's trophy for Windermere's Little Theatre would be a high honor!

But Eric was merciless and indefatigable. The one scene. The love scene in the garden. Line by line, word by word, gesture by gesture, with Eric alternately shouting at them and—worse—sitting back, pained and patient, with his eyes closed. Tom Reynolds looked as if he would splinter at a touch. And a fine mood for a love scene I'm in! Landon thought. She was tired. She wanted to go home to bed.

Eric walked over, spoke to them softly. "This scene has to be smoothed out. The whole thing pivots on it. All I want is some honesty and feeling in you." Sarcasm slid into the soft conversational tone, directed point-blank at Tom Reynolds. "Haven't you ever kissed a girl before?"

"It's that soppy line before the kiss!" Tom lashed back furiously. "It'd throw a Lothario. I'm no great lover—but that line is corn, pure corn."

Eric jumped up on the stage with them. "Think, Tom. Think what you are trying to say to this girl. You are trying to give her assurance of your power to love her. You have to make her feel she can be loved. You are trying to make her feel part of the moonlight and summertime, part of all the glittering magic of poetry and legend. She is young and defenseless and tender, and you are strong and ardent enough to bring her alive. That's what I want."

Tom Reynolds smile was thin; he nodded.

"Don't jerk her into your arms. You'll scare her off," Eric said. "You've got to be gentle—like this."

What happened was totally unexpected, yet so in sequence, so contextual, that Landon for all her tiredness found herself responding naturally, unquestioningly, to the pull of Eric's arms around her, drawing her slowly, slowly to him. There was a moment; something in Landon that knew and did not want to know. A last possible moment of protecting herself from not knowing. Then her eyes widened, wonderingly. And with a sigh she closed them. Her lashes rested heavily on her cheeks. A wild rejoicing, clamoring pulse beat through her body. There was the rush and lift of great high-climbing wings, a flood of unbearable sunlight rushing over her body . . . No! Her eyes flew open, wide, illuminated . . . and suddenly horrified.

Tom Reynolds was grinning widely. "Bravo!" he applauded.

Eric ran his hands up sheepishly through his hair. "I'm no Tyrone Power—but that's about the way it should go. Try it again, will you? Once more?"

But it was no good. Everyone knew it was no good. And, Eric, finally aware of fidgetings from the rest of the cast, made gesture breaking it up. "You are tired," he said. "We're all tired. Let's all go home to bed."

He didn't look at Landon. None of them did, and it was just as well.

The drive home was unbearable. Landon pressed herself back in her corner, away from Eric, staring straight ahead through the windshield, unable to bear to look at him. She said words that meant nothing to her, forcibly dragging up responses to his oblivious, easy conversation. Yes, Eric. No, Eric. Yes, I'll order fuel oil tomorrow. No, Merry-o's allowance is adequate, I think. The words for her actual thoughts, stranglingly held back, would have shaken Eric out of his complacence. You! Everything in the world I want. You, Maggie's husband. He would think it was horrible. And it was. It was monstrous, like some nightmare. Only she wasn't going to wake up and be free of it. She was going to have to live with it, if she could.

In her room, she leaned back against the door and closed her eyes. Her hands lifted, felt her face—as if betrayal must surely have carved crevices in the familiar contours. Certainly it had altered everything else. For loyalty was life. Loyalty to friends, to things beautiful and good . . . to Maggie.

She walked over to the bed and dropped down on it. I'll have to go away. I can't stay here, now. But she couldn't go away. Not possibly. Tears came, and she pushed them back with her hand. She mustn't even cry. Eric might hear her, or Gran. In the morning they would ask her what she had been crying about—and what could she say to them?

* * *

Eric picked his way gingerly down the ice-crusted steps of the university library. As usual, December was a month of jangled elements. Windermere was in the middle of a 50-mile snowbelt; a winter that wasn't blustery and sleet-raked was an aberration. But Eric, shifting his armful of books to turn up his collar, decided glumly that he had never known a worse December.

An unvaried routine of work and research could not fill his time altogether; his occasional nights out only stressed the flatness of diversion without Maggie. Landon tried to help. But, although, her being here had certainly diminished his worries, she had baffled him lately. She'd lost her first bounce. A spontaneity in her had died. She had become watchful of him, almost timid with him. What was it? And when had the change in her begun? Eric searched his memory, but it gave him no clue.

Merry-c, too. Exasperating beyond reason, these days. Selfish as a little savage, wilfully flaunting authority, glowering like a thundercloud at Landon, obviously hating herself and all the world . . . but why?

Life was progressing, but not along altogether satisfactory lines.

The trouble, he told himself, was Christmas. Maggie was its keynote, and without her all the Yuletide festivities were meaningless.

"Hi!" called Bill Kennedy, from the steps of the Physics building.

Eric jerked up his head and wheeled. Too quickly. He lost his precarious footing on the ice and crashed down.

Bill gave Eric a strong pull up, clapped his hat back on, collected far-flung books.

"Thanks," said Eric. He tested his arms and legs experimentally. "All I need—" aggrievedly—"is a busted leg. With Gran convalescing and Maggie at Breck, that would cap it."

"You need a drink," Bill decided. "There's some at our place. Come along. You got your car? Judith has ours."

"Over here," Eric nodded.

They had to wait for the defroster to clear the glass.

"Maggie is coming home for Christmas, is she? Bill asked.

"Yep."

"Time's a-moving."

"Seven months to go."

"Long?"

"A breeze," said Eric ironically.

Bill Kennedy said, "She loves you, anyway. That's something. Everything, I guess. Know something? My wife doesn't love me."

Eric said, "Are you kidding? She married you, didn't she?"

"You have certainly heard of rebounds," Bill said. "Judith was crazy about Jarvis Ireland. Did you know that?"

"Ye gods, all the co-eds were. The college football star, all that money, and charm thrown in as a bonus. All the gals went through a stage of hero-worshipping Jarv. They got over it, after commencement."

"I guess," said Bill, looking unhappy.

The car skidded sideways to a stop before the Kennedy's two-story yellow brick house. A twinge of unease that a drink swishing around in Bill's mind might bring on more unwanted confidences kept Eric from going in.

* * *

Queer, you could be right in the ebb and flow of lives around you and have no inkling of their true direction and meaning. Eric switched on the car radio. Someone was singing "The Old Spinning Wheel." One of Maggie's favorites. He turned the volume up.

Tonight, he would go through the albums and dig out all her pet records. The ache of loneliness was miraculously gone. Why? It was something that struck deep, into the core of his emotions. She loves you; that's everything. And it was. Why rub himself raw over seven months when they would have the rest of their lives together?

Hubby-Worship, Poor Idea --By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Would it help cut the divorce rate in America if every year we had a week dedicated to husband worship?

A hundred Hindu wives in India recently completed a five-day festival of husband worship. In one ceremony during the festival each wife washed her husband's feet, and a Hindu mystic expressed hope this rite "will end divorce."

Well, it was a heart warming thought. But would it work here? Many foreigners feel America's high divorce rate stems from the fact the ladies have too much power in this country, that a wife loses respect for a husband she can wear like a watch-fob or dangle like a marionette.

After all, we do celebrate things like National Dill Pickle Month. Why not set aside one measly week a year for husband worship? That would still leave us 51 weeks of wife worship—surely enough to keep any reasonable woman happy.

So, fired up with the heady prospects of launching America's first annual Worship Your Husband Week, I broached the project to a guy I know whom everybody calls "the oldtimer." He is wise in the ways of marriage, a combat veteran scarred but unbroken by a 30-year tour of duty on the same matrimonial battlefront.

Somewhat to my surprise, the oldtimer, after listening to my proposal, immediately threw cold water on it.

"Son, I know it sounds like heaven," he said, "but that's why it won't work. Heaven don't work on earth."

"You mean you wouldn't enjoy having your wife worship you for a week out of every year?" I asked.

"Lord a-mighty, no!" he thundered. "I don't know how those Hindu men stood it, having their womenfolk coming around worshipping 'em and a-washin their feet for five whole days. Father's Day is almost more than I can bear, with my wife and kids behaving like simpering idiots seeing me for the first time. You haven't thought this thing through."

"I don't get you," I murmured. "How?"

"Well for one thing, I bet you think American wives would resent a husband worshipping week and holler against having to wash the old man's feet, like Hindu ladies."

"Of course, they'd holler."

"That's how little you know about women," said the oldtimer. "Why, they'd go for it like a weasel goes for hen eggs.

"The wives would be fighting to show how much they worshipped their husbands. Every home soon would have a gilded bowl—something like the old shaving mugs—inscribed, 'Dear Daddykins—his tootsie bath.'

"They'd have all kinds of precious papa foot soaps on the market — perfumed naturally. Wives would be trading foot bath recipes, and there'd be national televised contests to pick America's leading foot-washing wife."

"Don't you think that's a bit overdrawn, oldtimer?"

"Not at all," he replied. "A husband worship week would be one long hell. A man couldn't move. He'd be so smothered in feminine adulation he'd be like a fly in a barrel of molasses. And that's the way his wife would like to have him.

"Son, when you worship something, it becomes your prisoner. Nothing with any sense really likes being worshipped. That's why women enjoy it. I fought my wife for 20 years before I found out the secret of how to beat her—which was, to worship her.

"I quit being her slave the day I told her I worshipped her. I've been telling her that ever since. When you keep telling a woman you worship her, she has to let you have your own way for fear you'll stop telling her."

Bennett Cerf's

Try, Stop Me

From Phyllis McGinley's "Love Letters," three devastating descriptions of certain venerable parties:

1. The old Reformer: "Few friend he kept that pleased his mind.-His marriage failed when it began,-Who worked unceasing for mankind,-But loathed his fellow man."

2. The Old Actor: 'Too lined for Hamlet, on the whole;-For tragic Lear, too coarsely built,-Himself becomes his favorite role-Played daily to the hilt."

3. The Old Philantropist: "His millions make museums bright;-Harvard anticipates his will;-While his young typist weeps at night-Over a druggist's bill."

There's no trouble selling a great classic, even in screen form, if the pitch is right. The proprietor of a movie house in a mining town did absolute capacity with "Julius Caesar." "It was easy," he boasted to Sid Skolsky. "I just advertised it as a straightforward, wonderful gangster story."

In England, there's a time of year known as St. Luke's summer that corresponds to Indian summer in the United States.

Dinner Honors Robert Martin

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Grubb of Stoutsville entertained at a dinner honoring Robert Martin, AOAN.

Attending the dinner in addition to the honored guest were: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin and sons, Billy and Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kocher, and the host and hostess and children, Bonnie, Margaret and Sonny, all of Stoutsville.

Robert Martin has been spending a thirty-day leave with his parents following a year of service overseas. He expects to leave Friday morning by plane for Alameda, Cal., where he is to be stationed.

Crusader Class Conducts Meet In Diltz Home

The Crusader Class of the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Diltz of Atwater Ave., with Mrs. Dick Blaney serving as co-hostess.

The meeting opened with devotions, led by Mrs. Willis Flowers. A total of 15 members and four guests were present for the event.

The class members voted to purchase a new rug and to redecorate the church nursery. The committee for this project is: Clark Zwayer, Mrs. Diltz and Mrs. Flowers.

Tax stamps were collected and a white elephant sale was enjoyed during a social hour. Games, led by Miss Helen Kocker, were won by Mrs. Dale DeLong, Mrs. James Recob, Mrs. Flowers, Mrs. Robert Dumm and Dale DeLong.

Mrs. Harmon Is Hostess To Meet Of Misson Group

The Missionary Society of the Laurelville Evangelical United Brethren church met in the home of Mrs. Dartha Harmon.

Opening prayer was led by Mrs. O. V. McFadden. The topic for the evening was "Christian Homes of America", given by Mrs. Dick Karr.

Mrs. Harmon reported on a missionary convention held recently in the Circleville First EUB church.

Those present for the meeting were: Mrs. Virgie Karshner, Mrs. Ida Defenbaugh, Mrs. Burnell Karshner, Mrs. Lloyd Eveland, Mrs. Harvey Martin, Mrs. Denny Drumm, Mrs. Charles Strous and Mrs. John McRoberts.

Teen-Age Group Holds Surprise Birthday Party

The seventeenth birthday anniversary of Wayne Chelikowsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Chelikowsky of S. Court St., was marked with a surprise party Wednesday evening.

The home of his parents, scene of the event, was decorated for the occasion with arrangements of Spring flowers, balloons and pastel streamers.

Highlight of the evening was a scavenger hunt, which was conducted by the guests. Winners in a balloon contest were Nola Rader and John Horn.

Dancing to the music of recordings was enjoyed and gifts were presented to the honored guest. A gift from the group was placed in a miniature golf bag.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Chelikowsky, from a buffet table, centered with a decorated cake flanked by tall yellow tapers. Miss Donna Mae Marshall presided at the punch bowl.

Guests at the affair included: Wayne Chelikowsky, honored guest, Rita Edgington, Marsha Morgan, Ethelda Moats, Patty McAbee, Beverly Brink, Connie Wertman, Patti Graham, Nola Rader, Joyce Hix and Ruth Ann Cassidy.

John Horn, Jim Marshall, Bobby Callihan, Rod Shasteen, Sam Wolford, Tommy Valentine, Bob Fraser, Dick Alkire and Patricia and Karen Chelikowsky, sisters of the honored guest.

Kindergarten Is To Host Parents

Miss Janet Norris, teacher of the kindergarten classes of Atwater school, has invited the parents of her pupils and the parents of the children who expect to attend the classes next fall to a program at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

The event is to be held in the Circleville Gospel Center near the school, where the classes are being conducted this year. A special program is being planned for the affair and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Lawrence Goeller Jr., Mrs. George Speakman and Mrs. John Bowers are assisting Miss Norris in preparing for the event.

Parents of next year's pupils who plan to attend the program are requested to call Mrs. Goeller at 694Y.

California Visit Includes Wedding

Mrs. Arnold Moats and daughters, Sue and Miss Faye Leasure, were visitors in San Diego, Cal. with Gene Leasure, son of Mrs. Moats, who is serving in the Navy.

While in San Diego, they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McAllister and family. They also attended the wedding of Miss Carol Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woods, to Stanley Robert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Smith, all of San Diego. The rites were read in the First Christian Church of that city.

Miss Leasure is enjoying an extended visit in California with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilkey and Miss Peggy McAllister, while Mrs. Moats and Sue have returned to Circleville.

Serviceman Takes Columbus Bride

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gaine of Columbus are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Violet, to Pvt. Ralph E. Myers Jr., son of Mrs. Mary E. Myers of 375 Weldon Ave.

The wedding, which was held in Liberty, Ind. was attended by Carl Myers, an uncle of the groom.

The bride attended South High School in Columbus. Pvt. Myers attended Circleville High School before entering the armed forces. He had been stationed at Camp Shaffee, Ark. prior to his leave which he spent in Circleville. He left Thursday for Aberdeen Proving Field, Baltimore Md., where his bride expects to join him in the near future.

Personals

Mrs. Channing Vlerebome of 355 E. Main St. will be hostess to members of Group A of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Group B of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian church will meet at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Robert Adkins of 144 Montclair Ave.

Mrs. Margaret Justice, president of the local Henry Page Folsom VFW Post Auxiliary, Mrs. Pauline Russell, Mrs. Bessie Laffe, Mrs. Doris Sheppard and Mrs. Jessie Jackson attended the 11th district legion conference, which was held in Lancaster.

Mrs. John D. Robinson and children, Patty Sue and Jack, have returned to their home in Circleville following a trip to Lake Erie, Sandusky, and other points of interest.

Pythian Sisters will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Knights of Pythias Lodge rooms.

Unknown to their supposed countries of origin are Danish pastry, Russian dressing and Spanish omelet.

Beverly Elsea Is Feted At Party In Jones Home

Miss Beverly Elsea, who is to become a June bride, was guest of honor at a shower when Mrs. Neva Hutchinson and Mrs. Rose Foreman entertained in her honor in the home of Mrs. Robin Jones of N. Pickaway St.

The Jones home was decorated for the occasion in pastel shades of yellow, blue and white. Gifts were placed under a decorated umbrella which was held by a bride doll.

The evening was spent in playing games and contests. Following the opening of gifts, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Those present for the occasion included:

Miss Elsea, honored guest, Mrs. Robert Elsea, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Ray Ulery, Mrs. Kay Metzger, Mrs. Mary Sheehy and Miss Rose Mary Sheehy of Columbus; Mrs. Joe Carney and Mrs. M. L. Carney of Lockbourne; Mrs. George Banks, and Lynn, Mrs. Betty Wears and children, Becky and Susan, of Obetz.

Latest Membership Drive Here May Hold Fate Of Youth Canteen

One of the few locally supported Youth Canteens is being threatened with oblivion unless its latest membership drive is a success.

The Canteen, now located above the First National Bank at Court and Main Streets in Circleville, is called "the only decent place our kids can go to" by many parents.

Originally, the Canteen was conceived by Hal Dean through Community Chest financing. Local Kiwanians also supported the project.

However, around 1947, a parents' organization took over when the financing ceased. Mrs. Evelyn Carter was named hostess then and Dr. G. D. Phillips was first president.

* * *

FINANCING of the Canteen now comes from private donations, dues of members, rummage sales, card parties and profits from the sale of "pumpkinburgers" at the annual Pumpkin Show.

Dues for teenagers are $2 a year; for adults, $1 annually.

(Ben Gordon, local business man, has been given credit for conceiving the idea of "pumpkinburgers.")

The Canteen is open on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights from 7:30 until 10 p. m. and on Saturday nights from 7:30 until 11 p. m. Closing time can be extended for special occasions.

Round and square dances are frequently held. There is a juke box and piano to provide music; there is also a television room.

* * *

RECREATION is available in the form of ping pong and pool tables. There are hopes to re-open a snack bar to provide refreshments.

Boys and girls may start attending the Canteen as soon as they reach the age of 13. Friday and Saturday night sessions are chaperoned because of the large amount of activity.

It has been estimated that to keep the Canteen open amounts to approximately $200 a month.

Boys and girls select their own officers at the Canteen. Keeping teenagers off the streets at night and out of trouble is the top problem of both Canteen officers and adults.

When the Youth Canteen was first organized 13 years ago, it was located above The Circleville Herald. In 1947, the Canteen moved to its present location.

* * *

THE FIRST hostess was Mrs. Mary G. Morris. She was succeeded by: Mrs. Frank Kline; Mrs. Carter; Mrs. Fred Boggs; Mr. and Mrs. John Keller; and now Mrs. Amos Palm.

New officers for the organization have been listed as follows:

Wendell Emerine, president; Roger Magill, vice - president; Harriet Hatcher, secretary, and Bob Wellington, treasurer.

Members of the student council are:

Mike Kirkpatrick, Dick Alkire, Jay Curry, Ethelda Moats, Patty Brink, and Patsy Smith.

* * *

Charles Kirkpatrick, president; Eugene Barthelmas, vice - president; Mrs. Collis Young, secretary, and Mrs. Myra Rader, treasurer.

Members of other groups in the organization, as listed by the canteen, are:

House committee—Mrs. Robert E. Hedges, chairman; Mrs. Karl Mason; Mrs. James I. Smith; Mrs. William Steel; Mrs. Emory Ridlon; Mrs. Wes Edstrom; D. J. Carpenter; Mrs. Dave Goldschmidt.

4 BUC Employes Given Suspensions

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has announced suspension of four employes of its Toledo office, including the manager.

Ernest Cornell, BUC administrator, said Edward J. Bodette, manager of the Toledo office since 1938, and Mary Wilkins, clerk in the Toledo office since 1949, had been suspended for 30 days pending filing of charges.

Cornell said 20-day suspensions for disciplinary reasons were given Orville E. Wilford, claims supervisor, and Margaret Kniesser, employment interviewer.

Turnpike Jibes Irk State Official

CLEVELAND (AP)—The secretary of the Ohio Turnpike Commission has asked Ohio newspapers to "lay off" their criticism of lagging construction on the superhighway project.

A. J. Allen of Cincinnati voiced his views to a group of newspapermen and commission members touring the turnpike area in the Cleveland vicinity. He said all concerned should concentrate solely on getting the turnpike open on schedule, next Oct. 1.

"These newspaper stories have done nothing to help get this job done," he declared.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef and lamb will offer the most for your money in the nation's food stores this weekend.

It's on cuts of these two meats that most the weekend price trimming is planned. Favorite features will be chuck roast and round roast. However, one large chain plans to cut prices on sirloin steaks by from two to six cents a pound and on prime ribs by around two to four cents.

Legs of lamb will be a popular special, too, and a number of stores will have lamb shoulder roast at reduced prices. There also will be reductions on lamb chops in some areas.

Frying chickens will be higher by from two to four cents a pound, however.

Egg prices won't show much change this weekend, but the word is that you may expect higher prices soon. The approaching hot weather means hens will lay fewer eggs.

Butter prices this weekend will be about the same as a week ago.

Prices will be higher on snap beans, carrots, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers and cabbage, according to the produce men.

Long Friendship Ends In Court

FOSTORIA (AP)—A long friendship came to an official end in municipal court when Jack Smead accused his onetime pal, Mark Cutcher, of stealing his life savings from a gift overcoat.

Smead testified that one cold day last January he took pity on his unemployed friend, Cutcher, and gave him an old overcoat. What he didn't know, Smead said, was that his wife had been saving $1,000 in $100 bills in the overcoat's pocket. Cutcher said he never saw the money.

However, Smead said he learned later that Cutcher had paid off a loan and a grocer's bill with $100 bills. Judge James V. Ford bound Cutcher to the grand jury.

4 BUC Employes Given Suspensions

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has announced suspension of four employes of its Toledo office, including the manager.

Ernest Cornell, BUC administrator, said Edward J. Bodette, manager of the Toledo office since 1938, and Mary Wilkins, clerk in the Toledo office since 1949, had been suspended for 30 days pending filing of charges.

Cornell said 20-day suspensions for disciplinary reasons were given Orville E. Wilford, claims supervisor, and Margaret Kniesser, employment interviewer.

Turnpike Jibes Irk State Official

CLEVELAND (AP)—The secretary of the Ohio Turnpike Commission has asked Ohio newspapers to "lay off" their criticism of lagging construction on the superhighway project.

A. J. Allen of Cincinnati voiced his views to a group of newspapermen and commission members touring the turnpike area in the Cleveland vicinity. He said all concerned should concentrate solely o.. getting the turnpike open on schedule, next Oct. 1.

"These newspaper stories have done nothing to help get this job done," he declared.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef and lamb will offer the most for your money in the nation's food stores this weekend.

It's on cuts of these two meats that most the weekend price trimming is planned. Favorite features will be chuck roast and round roast. However, one large chain plans to cut prices on sirloin steaks by from two to six cents a pound and on prime ribs by around two to four cents.

Legs of lamb will be a popular special, too, and a number of stores will have lamb shoulder roast at reduced prices. There also will be reductions on lamb chops in some areas.

Frying chickens will be higher by from two to four cents a pound, however.

Egg prices won't show much change this weekend, but the word is that you may expect higher prices soon. The approaching hot weather means hens will lay fewer eggs.

Butter prices this weekend will be about the same as a week ago.

Prices will be higher on snap beans, carrots, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers and cabbage, according to the produce men.

Long Friendship Ends In Court

FOSTORIA (AP)—A long friendship came to an official end in municipal court when Jack Smead accused his onetime pal, Mark Cutcher, of stealing his life savings from a gift overcoat.

Smead testified that one cold day last January he took pity on his unemployed friend, Cutcher, and gave him an old overcoat. What he didn't know, Smead said, was that his wife had been saving $1,000 in $100 bills in the overcoat's pocket. Cutcher said he never saw the money.

However, Smead said he learned later that Cutcher had paid off a loan and a grocer's bill with $100 bills. Judge James V. Ford bound Cutcher to the grand jury.

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Shades of Isaak Walton—look what we just saw in the paper!

"Grunting earthworms is getting to be a profitable business in many sections of the country. Many men, women and children are engaged in grunting, or rubbing up fish worms, packing them in containers with sand, muck and moss and shipping them all over the country. One dealer sold over $12,000 worth last year and recently a record was made by one man and his wife, who grunted up 84 quarts—about 300 worms to the quart—in two days."

The scientific way, so they say, to collect earthworms, is to tap the ground and they will come up out of their burrows, or you can drive a stake into the ground about 10 inches and beat on the side of this until the worms come up. Or if you will draw a board, or a Model T Ford spring leaf across the end of this stick, like the bow across a fiddle string, the worms will feel the vibration and come to you from as far as 25 to 30 feet.

When we were kids, we don't remember of any of these educated species—we had to dig ours out. Many will recall that the first place we would look for fishworms was under the old wooden culverts at the street intersections (they were great places for our baseballs to get under, too).

* * *

PREPARED with long-handled hoes and tin cans, any day in the summer, except on Sunday, you could see youngsters pulling out the dirt from under these culverts and sorting out the nice fat worms for their bait cans.

Our favorite spot was the neighborhood corner of Mound and Washington. Sometimes, during long dry spells, we had to look elsewhere for worms.

Maybe in your own back yard you could find some, especially where mother threw out the water from the dishpan, or where the grounds from the coffee pot were washed out—they apparently liked their coffee too—for you sure could get some fats ones there.

In extremely hot weather, they went down so deep, that it is questionable whether the bull-fiddle treatment could reach them. It was then that we had to resort to calling on someone of our neighborhood gang, who had a cousin or uncle with a farm within walking distance, that would let us dig around his watering trough in the feed lot.

You could really get your cans full of choice ones there.

If you were smart, you would bring in more than you needed and start an incubator—placing your breeding stock in an old nail keg or wooden bucket and burying this in the ground. This had to be kept at the proper moisture content, and once in a while you had to feed your livestock with bread crumbs, oatmeal or coffee grounds, to keep them plump and producing.

* * *

ONCE IN A while, one of the gang would get a little high-hat and kinda sneer at the kid using worms for bait—he would say that all good fishers used either dough-balls, canned corn, chicken cast-offs, pork rinds, stink worms, grubs, sow bugs, hellgrammites, night crawlers, grasshoppers, locuosts, horse-weed grubs, minnows or crawdads — you know, like the fancy tackle fishermen of today look on us bait-fishers.

They were experts—so they would have you believe—and specialized in the species of fish in their catch.

Maybe they were—but you could bet your favorite cork bobbler that the kid, proudly going down the street with a full stringer of fish —all sizes and kinds—tied to the old pole across his shoulder, was strictly a worm fisherman and not a specialist.

Boy, 14, Admits Slaying Playmate

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Police said 14-year-old David Drew admitted bludgeoning and stabbing to death his 7-year-old playmate.

Officers quoted David as saying the beating of Stanley R. Frank Jr. began as an accident, but added.

"I get an urge just like that once in a while."

Stanley didn't come home for dinner so his parents began searching. They met David who took them to Stanley's body.

Gas Explosion Rattles School

CLEVELAND (AP)—A gas explosion rocked suburban Euclid High School yesterday, causing damage estimated at $150,000. The building was empty except for an engineer, who suffered bruises.

The blast came from the school's boiler room shortly before the senior high school's 1,500 pupils began arriving for classes in the three story, $4,500,000 structure. Some 30 windows were shattered.

Henry Cowles, the engineer, was blown across the boiler room by the concussion. He said it came after he had prepared to light the gas-fired, 250 horsepower steam boiler and was about to turn on the main gas valve.

Small Alteration In Name Asked

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP)— Exectrom Fullenwider Springs is dissatisfied with his name. He will appear May 24 before Court Clerk William E. Church to ask it be changed to Exectrom Fullenwider Springs Caldwell.

Old Buddies Sought By 102nd Division

The 102nd Infantry Division Association is conducting a search to locate more than 150 Columbus area veterans who saw combat service with the division during World War II. A considerable number of them, it was believed, may be residents of Pickaway County.

Leaders of the association recently announced the appointment of Benjamin J. Williams, of 908 E. Eighth Ave., Columbus, as area chairman for the organization.

Members of the famed division, "The Ozarks," will conduct a national reunion in Toledo July 22-24, with headquarters at the Commodore Perry Hotel.

More than 26,000 men, from all states of the Union, fought with the 102nd through the Rhineland and Central European campaigns.

YOUTH DAY: The Pickaway County Agricultural Society officially designated Friday, September 16, as Youth Day at the 1955 Pickaway County Fair, at their last regular meeting. The soon-to-be organized Junior Fair Board will be responsible for planning and conducting the Youth Day programs. All county school children will be admitted free to the Fairgrounds on that date. Tickets will be printed and distributed to the Schools for the event.

With the great emphasis on youth in Pickaway County, the Youth Day and Junior Fair Board idea was conceived as a means of giving more young people an opportunity to participate in events at the Pickaway County Fair.

The Fair is increasing each year in popularity as an educational, cultural and recreational feature of the life of the community. Rural school superintendents have pledged full support to the Youth Day program.

Representatives of youth organizations will meet in the very near future to organize and initiate plans for the youth day programs.

NATIONAL WOOL ACT: Pickaway County wool growers are advised to:

1. Sell wool at highest possible price; and
2. Obtain complete sales records on the 1955 clip.

A high selling price is important because under the national Wool Act payments are made on the basis of a percentage of the price received rather than a flat cents per pound rate.

As an example: The Department of Agriculture has announced an incentive price of 62 cents per pound on shorn wool marketed between April 1, 1955 and March 31, 1956. Let's assume the average price for wool on the market during the period was 50 cents per pound. To bring the average of 50 cents to 62 cents each, producers price would need to be increased by 24 per cent. The government payments in each case would be 24 percent of the selling price of the wool.

The ASC Committee has the responsibility of administering the program.

CORN SUBSTITUTES: Several farmers have inquired recently concerning substitute crops to be used in place of corn for silage. The ASC office reports corn planted for silage or planted as a companion crop will be counted as a part of a farmer's corn allotment.

For silage, sorghum is the best annual crop to substitute for corn. It should be planted between May 20 and June 10 and fertilized at the rate of 400 pounds of 3-12-12, 300 pounds of 10-10-10 or 250 pounds of 5-20-20 per acre. If seeded in rows, 5 to 7 pounds should be planted per acre (1 to 2 inches between seeds) or if drilled 40 to 50 pounds per acre. Suggested varieties are Early Sumac, Rox Orange or Atlas.

Sorghum will yield more tonnage than corn. The plants start slowly making cultivation difficult. It should be harvested when some of the seeds are hard, Sorghum silage will be higher in moisture and lower in feeding value than corn.

Other substitutes are:

Soybeans, seeded at the rate of 3 to 4 pecks per acre and harvested when beans are formed but not hard. (ground corn and cob meal should be mixed with soybeans when put in the silo;)

Sudan Grass, seeded at rate of 20 to 30 pounds per acre between May 10 and June 10—harvest when some of the seeds are hard (less yield than corn or sorghum, more than soybeans).

Early harvested Sudan Grass may be pastured when the plants have regrown to a heighth of 12 to 15 inches.

PIG ESTIMATES: This fall's pig crop is expected to be a little larger than fall of 1954, according to extension economists. They forecast hog prices will begin down-trend after reaching a high point in July or August. About 18 per cent more hogs were slaughtered during January to April period this year than in 1954.

CORN PLANTING TIME: The past week has been very favorable for planting corn and everyone seemed to get the "planting fever". It is estimated that approximately 80 to 90 percent of the corn has been sown and 60 to 70 percent of the soybeans. Corn borers are likely to be about as numerous as they have been during the past few years.

WE'RE IMPORTANT: The importance of Ohio as a livestock producing state can be gleaned from the following facts. By states, Ohio ranks ninth in number of total meat animals produced; we raise 2,812,000 hogs annually which is good for sixth place in the standings.

Ohio ranks seventh in sheep and lambs in states and is first of the states east of the Mississippi River. Pickaway County ranks seventh in the State of Ohio—we are important!

Notice Of Alibi Filed In Slaying

McCONNELSVILLE (AP) — Mrs. Frances Sloan, 28, slated to go on trial Monday for the slaying of her 16-year-old nephew, has filed a notice of alibi, a rarely used legal maneuver.

The notice, permitted by law to be filed within three days before the trial date, states Mrs. Sloan was not at the scene of the crime when Kenneth Robert Strohl was slain mysteriously Jan. 5.

Her attorney, A. Bernard Mercer, said reason for filing the notice was to make it a matter of court record. Mrs. Sloan has been charged with first degree murder and will be tried in Morgan County common pleas court.

Suicide Makes Detailed Plans

OYSTER BAY COVE, N. Y. (AP) —On Monday, Ernest Woolard, well-to-do interior decorator, visited a funeral parlor. He said he wanted to arrange for a funeral for a member of the family who was near death.

He wrote down the precise cost of each item. He chose a simple pine casket, and listed the prayers to be said. He ordered the burial in a Washington, D. C., cemetery.

Then he went home and wrote a note to an old friend, Police Lt. C. Russell Haff. It said, "You will find my body in the jeep in the garage in the event my wife doesn't find me first."

Woolard's wife found the body Tuesday. The jeep was covered with a canvas, and a hose was rigged to the exhaust. Police ruled the death a suicide.

Seattle Holding Slayer For Ohio

SEATTLE (AP)—Francis Leo Horr, 35, who FBI agents say is charged in Youngstown, Ohio, with slaying Mrs. Rosemary Hunter on May 1, has been arrested here.

Authorities said Horr was arrested Tuesday on a federal charge of unlawful flight across a state line to avoid prosecution. A U. S. commissioner set bail at $10,000, pending Horr's return to Youngstown.

out-of-print shortly after they are published, so small is the print-order. Some are purchasable in second-hand book stores within a year of publication.

How either the publisher or the author makes any money out of them has always been a puzzle to me, but maybe for the author it is a labor of love or pride and for the publisher it is something to keep the overhead covered.

Nevertheless, many of these efforts contain important data, otherwise not readily available. The student would not even know about them unless they were called to his attention or he found them while browsing through the printed word on an off afternoon. It is often a joy to discover a document, which one knew existed somewhere but had forgotten where, in the appendix of such a volumn.

For some reason, printed material bound in hard covers is more respected than the pamphlet or the magazine. But often invaluable studies appear in pamphlets which the author might even publish at his own expense and mail out to those who he thinks might be sufficiently interested to read it and perhaps even write a comment.

Much of this kind of literature finds its way into boxes and cartons to be reclassified or bound some day. And the day seems never to come. It would be so much more sensible to send it to a library or a reading room such as Mr. Morse has established, so that those who want to know can find what they search for.

Cleveland Boy, 12, Has IQ Too High To Be Measured

CLEVELAND (AP) — The parents of 12-year-old John Francis Schivell have a problem. Psychologists told them their son's level of intelligence is so high it can't be measured by standardized tests and most public schools are inadequate for his intellectual gifts.

A strapping 150-pounder who stands 5 feet 6, John is wrapped up in physics and mathematics and says he wants to become a "research scientist."

He is a freckle-faced bespectacled eighth - grader at suburban Maple Heights High School, where he gets straight A's.

Two years ago, during routine testing by Kent State University psychologists, testers said John "broke through the top of the Stanford-Binet intelligence test."

In tests by the department of psychology of Western Reserve University, John attained a perfect score in such areas as language development memory, ability to compare and contrast ideas and concepts and recognition of words, according to Dr. Corinne F. Baker, assistant clinical professor there.

The boy spends his spare time reading technical publications, studying foreign languages, and is currently absorbed in a biography of the late Albert Einstein.

Dr. Baker said:

"It is easily seen that John is out of place among boys of his own age. He has adult reading habits and is bored with school, because there is insufficient challenge."

Dr. Baker said John recorded the highest possible score of 190 in a series of IQ tests in which average children register in a range from 85 to 114.

John's father, a layout inspector in a factory, applied for a scholarship for the boy at a private academy, but says he cannot afford the $800 yearly cost for the boy's room, board and books.

New York Chides Joke In Nevada

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York State may be trying to save money, but it isn't pinching pennies the way Nevada says it is.

The story is going around in Nevada that letters received by the Nevada Tax Commission from the New York Tax Department were enclosed in envelopes printed nearly a quarter of a century ago. And, as reported in Reno, the envelopes listed Alfred E. Smith as governor, although he left office in 1928.

"That's an old saw. Somebody had better take a closer look at those envelopes," a spokesman here commented. "It's just that department envelopes bear the address 'Gov. Alfrd E. Smith Office Building, Albany, N. Y.' "

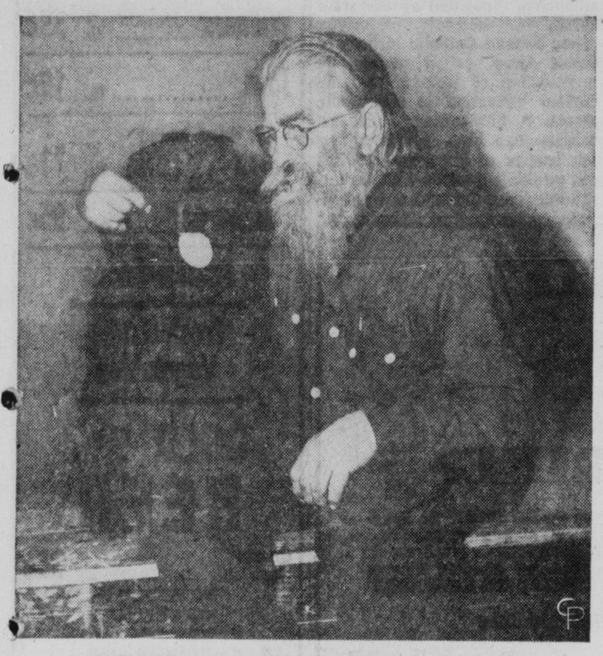
SEPTUAGENARIAN BACHELOR SHUNS WOMEN, HAIRCUTS, PREFERS TO TALK TO DOGS



H. S. Getchell with Kid, the Labrador dog, which the septuagenarian claims can understand 2,000 different words.

By LUCIA PERRIGO
Central Press Correspondent

CHICAGO—If a fellow skips marriage, and shuns haircuts and shaves, he can save a pretty penny.

This theory is one tried and tested by H. S. Getchell, a bachelor of 73 with a visage that would vie with Santa Claus. Not only does brother Getchell give women and razors the go-by, but he much prefers talking to dogs than to people, and perhaps he has a point there.

We ran into Getchell the other day when a garage attendant at Chicago's Hotel Sherman observed, "See the beaver in the buggy over there? Won't take a room in the hotel. Wants to sleep in the garage, in the car with four dogs!"

After a bit of polite palaver with Getchell it was discovered that 67 years ago in the backwoods of Maine he discovered he could talk to dogs, and later determined never to wed because he couldn't find a woman who would not talk back.

* * *

IN CHICAGO to appear on some television shows with his amazing animals, Getchell had brought his family—four dogs—from his Connecticut home and pointed with inordinate pride to Kid, a five-year-old Labrador whom he insists understands 2,000 words. Since that is four more than we know, we asked for a demonstration.

Kid promptly picked out a gentleman with a moustache, a young lady with a red dress, a man with a camera, another with a striped tie, an elevator, and a cashier, all at Getchell's commands and from his descriptions.

Explaining this phenomenon, old H. S. recalled, "Started with a dog on a Maine farm when I was lonely and wanted someone to talk to. It understood better than my stepfather, who couldn't understand anything, including me."

Except for a few years when sailing the seas, Getchell and dogs have been inseparable. He even had several smart ones working with him when he appeared with Pearl White in The Perils of Pauline back when movies were a pup.

* * *

SINCE 1926 Getchell has traveled about America showing his dogs in schools and on television and as far as he's concerned his living pattern is realy doggy.

When on the road, Kid and the rest of Getchell's "kids" sleep with him right in the car, stopping at overnight truck parks or wherever he can put up.

Life has little to complicate Getchell. He quit shaving when the price of a shave plus a haircut zoomed to $1.50 and, of course, single blessedness has not taxed his purse too terribly.

As for his wardrobe, his pal Kid may have had on a fur coat, but Getchell sticks strictly to trousers and a light shirt over his long underwear.

PUCO To Hear Railroad Complaint

COLUMBUS (AP)—The complaint of seven railroads against an Akron motor hauling company, charged with having unduly low rates, has been set for a June 14 hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The railroads charged Direct Transportation Co. is hauling synthetic crude rubber from Cincinnati to Akron at a rate that will cause "destructive competition" between the complainants and direct transportation.

Complaining railroads are the Akron, Canton and Youngstown; Baltimore and Ohio; Chesapeake and Ohio; Erie, New York Central, Norfolk and Western, and the Pennsylvania.

Oklahoma City, Okla., had a population of 10,000 persons on the day it was settled. The city was opened for settlement on April 22, 1889, and by that beautiful nightfall there were 10,000 persons under tents.

Anti-Jaywalking Campaign Halted

CHADRON, Neb. (AP)—City Manager Kenneth Kyle has called off a weeklong campaign against jaywalking.

He said businessmen protested that customers complained when asked to stick to the intersection. So, said Kyle, "not a thing will be done in Chadron about jaywalking."

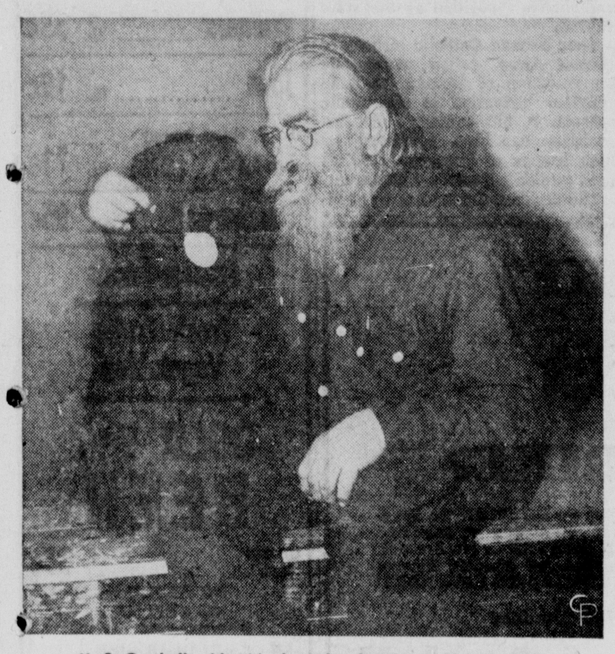
SEPTUAGENARIAN BACHELOR SHUNS WOMEN, HAIRCUTS, PREFERS TO TALK TO DOGS



H. S. Getchell with Kid, the Labrador dog, which the septuagenarian claims can understand 2,000 different words.

By LUCIA PERRIGO
Central Press Correspondent

CHICAGO—If a fellow skips marriage, and shuns haircuts and shaves, he can save a pretty penny.

This theory is one tried and tested by H. S. Getchell, a bachelor of 73 with a visage that would vie with Santa Claus. Not only does brother Getchell give women and razors the go-by, but he much prefers talking to dogs than to people, and perhaps he has a point there.

We ran into Getchell the other day when a garage attendant at Chicago's Hotel Sherman observed, "See the beaver in the buggy over there? Won't take a room in the hotel. Wants to sleep in the garage, in the car with four dogs!"

After a bit of polite palaver with Getchell it was discovered that 67 years ago in the backwoods of Maine he discovered he could talk to dogs, and later determined never to wed because he couldn't find a woman who would not talk back.

• • •

IN CHICAGO to appear on some television shows with his amazing animals, Getchell had brought his family—four dogs—from his Connecticut home and pointed with inordinate pride to Kid, a five-year-old Labrador whom he insists understands 2,000 words. Since that is four more than we know, we asked for a demonstration.

Kid promptly picked out a gentleman with a moustache, a young lady with a red dress, a man with a camera, another with a striped tie, an elevator, and a cashier, all at Getchell's commands and from his descriptions.

Explaining this phenomenon, old H. S. recalled, "Started with a dog on a Maine farm when I was lonely and wanted someone to talk to. It understood better than my stepfather, who couldn't understand anything, including me."

Except for a few years when sailing the seas, Getchell and dogs have been inseparable. He even had several smart ones working with him when he appeared with Pearl White in The Perils of Pauline back when movies were a pup.

• • •

SINCE 1926 Getchell has traveled about America showing his dogs in schools and on television and as far as he's concerned his living pattern is realy doggy.

When on the road, Kid and the rest of Getchell's "kids" sleep with him right in the car, stopping at overnight truck parks or wherever he can put up.

Life has little to complicate Getchell. He quit shaving when the price of a shave plus a haircut zoomed to $1.50 and, of course, single blessedness has not taxed his purse too terribly.

As for his wardrobe, his pal Kid may have had on a fur coat, but Getchell sticks strictly to trousers and a light shirt over his long underwear.

PUCO To Hear Railroad Complaint

COLUMBUS (AP)—The complaint of seven railroads against an Akron motor hauling company, charged with having unduly low rates, has been set for a June 14 hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The railroads charged Direct Transportation Co. is hauling synthetic crude rubber from Cincinnati to Akron at a rate that will cause "destructive competition" between the complainants and direct transportation.

Complaining railroads are the Akron, Canton and Youngstown; Baltimore and Ohio; Chesapeake and Ohio; Erie, New York Central, Norfolk and Western, and the Pennsylvania.

Oklahoma City, Okla., had a population of 10,000 persons on the day it was settled. The city was opened for settlement on April 22, 1889, and by that beautiful nightfall there were 10,000 persons under tents.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My nerves are shot by 18 years' unhappy marriage to an irresponsible man who hasn't planned for the future from the day we married. I've been near a breakdown before, but never as close as this. I can't seem to get hold of myself and the children (we have three) are badly affected by my condition.

Bob just won't be troubled by finances. He keeps working, and he turns over his checks to me, asking for only a small allowance. But as he expects me to pay for everything, he needs very little cash—and he goes into debt very freely for what he wants. An expensive car and a TV set are the latest strain on my budget.

He brags about his good credit—and owes everybody. We pay out enough interest annually to support one child. Our medical and dental bills are kept to a minimum—and I no longer dare get such care for myself, for fear I would lose my pride before the costs were paid. Two of the children need glasses, which I can't afford, and they all need shoes and clothes, as they can't wear hand-me-downs so well any more. But Bob won't help me plan for their needs.

Man Regresses Daily

He will say "go charge what you need"—and then throw fits when the bills arrive, storming at me to "find the money to pay for this." I've worked when the wolf was at the door, and my friends have helped us financially when I was cracking under the strain. But Bob never bothers to pay. He just lets the bills pile up—and he seems more immature every day.

Once, during a medical interview about my nerves, Bob's face-saving lies left me speechless. Later the doctor told me he saw through the alibis. I've been advised to separate, but I don't believe in that. Yet when I plead with Bob to share family problems, he merely curses and misbehaves worse. It seems I can't win, but perhaps your good counsel will give me a clue.

P. Y.

Wife Is Able

DEAR P. Y.: Your nerves are shot by a fear-filled performance, the nature of which you haven't quite recognized. Your ordeal may be likened to the gymnastics of a timid swimmer in deep water, who is keeping afloat by her own efforts, while clinging to a straw on the hysteric theory that the straw is bearing her up.

Disinterested onlookers see your situation thus, I am sure; and that's why certain parties advise you to separate from Bob, as a move towards getting your feet on the ground, and securing peace of mind and some opportunity to plan dependably for the future.

By now you know the truth, but you refuse to face the fact that Bob is a complete washout as a family man and financial provider. You grouse about his irresponsibility, in your thoughts and conversation, but actually you never inwardly come to grips with the proposition that he is a deadweight sort of problem—not a partner.

Why this doubleminded attitude on your part? — this compulsive disposition to look for better things from Bob, when in your heart you feel hopeless about him?—when you deeply distrust and despise him? I'll tell you why. It is the chief unconscious stalling tactic you have, against the worst experience you can conjecture (to your way of thinking)—an "out" that suggests itself from time to time. Namely, the business of standing on your own feet in life, and being responsible for your own upkeep, and the children's, too, if it comes to that.

Needs Education

You are emotionally exhausted, not so much by Bob's infantilism, as by your aggressive struggle to be dependent upon him — which signifies your own unconscious determination to remain immature in a situation that inexorably requires mature responses, as the price of deliverance from intolerabl tensions. You've spent 18 years waiting in vain for a magic solution of the deadlock—and now you're near to collapse from frustration.

There is a child guidance center attached to the medical college in the city through which you write, and I suggest you go there for first-hand help in finding the special counsel your case requires. You need emergency re-education for facing life.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

Du Pont Plant Employes Here Offered Plan To Boost Savings

A thrift plan was offered today to employes of the Circleville Du Pont plant under which the company will add 25 cents to every dollar they save, E. F. Ridlon, local plant manager, announced.

Purpose is to encourage employes to save regularly and to provide an opportunity for them to become stockholders in the company at no cost to themselves. Participation in the plan is entirely voluntary.

The plan sets up an incentive for employes to save regularly and on a long-range basis through payroll deductions. The company will contribute to a trust fund 25 per cent of the amount saved by each employe. This money will be used to buy Du Pont common stock for the individual.

It works like this:

Every eligible employee who wants to participate will specify the amount he wishes to save each month by payroll deduction. The minimum is $12.50 a month and the maximum is $37.50. The amount he specifies will be deducted each pay period and will be put into U. S. Savings Bonds, Series E, for him.

* * *

EVERY MONTH the company will pay over to a trustee one-fourth as much as the amount deducted for each employee. This money will be used by the trustee to buy stock monthly for the employee's account and dividends will be applied to purchase more stock for his benefit. When he accumulates a full share it will be put in his name, and after the required holding period of two years, will be turned over to him. Dividends on the shares in his name will be paid directly to him.

Since the purpose is to encourage sustained saving, the employe's savings bonds will be held for four years, then will be delivered to him in annual installments. Stock will also be held for a minimum of four years from the time he enrolls in the plan, but delivery thereafter will vary in accordance with the rate at which the stock builds up in his account.

All employes with two years or more service are eligible. This is a continuing program so, once he enrolls in it, an employe may stay in as long as he wishes. He can drop out at any time and get back his money in government bonds and the company's contribution. However, if he drops out in less than a year he loses his share of the company's contributions.

The program is subject to clearance with several federal agencies. It is expected that governmental approvals will be received in time to get the plan under way September 1. The company will pay all costs of administration.

Aside from making payroll deductions the program will be handled by a bank, as trustee. It will buy bonds and stock for the employees, hold them, deliver them at the proper time and perform other necessary services.

Church Organ Star Pestered By Woman, 35

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Cornelius J. Harrington says he believes in freedom of worship but that he had to draw the line somewhere for Miss Harriet Davis.

He drew the line in court recently. He said that if the slightly plump, 35-year-old brunette attends a church in suburban Glencoe again he will hold her in contempt of court.

Miss Davis appeared in court to have set aside an injunction restraining her from "bothering" Robert Metzler, a 50 - year - old church organist.

Metzler said Miss Davis' attentions had forced him to leave his job in a Chicago church and take another in Glencoe. He said he got the injunction a few months ago when the church trustees told him to straighten out the situation or else.

"I'm not interested in Mr. Metzler," explained Miss Davis. "I'm interested in his music. It sends me. There's something about it different from the music in any other church."

"Is that why you traveled 20 miles—just to hear him play?" asked Judge Harrington.

"Yes. I have an entirely different emotional reaction when I hear him play," she declared.

Judge Harrington explained that he didn't like to interfere with any individual's right to worship, but that he thought Miss Davis should attend a church nearer her home.

Argentine Solons Fight State Religion

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—With President Juan Peron's government pressing its fight against the Roman Catholic Church, a congressional committee announced plans of a bill to end catholicism's position as the state church.

Four Roman Catholic bishops of Buenos Aires called meanwhile for retention of Roman Catholic religious education in the public schools. A bill ending such instruction has been approved by both houses of Congress and is now awaiting Peron's signature.

The additional proposal to separate church and state would require an amendment to the national constitution, which now establishes Roman Catholicism as the state religion.

Needs Education

You are emotionally exhausted, not so much by Bob's infantilism, as by your aggressive struggle to be dependent upon him — which signifies your own unconscious determination to remain immature in a situation that inexorably requires mature responses, as the price of deliverance from intolerabl tensions. You've spent 18 years waiting in vain for a magic solution of the deadlock—and now you're near to collapse from frustration.

There is a child guidance center attached to the medical college in the city through which you write, and I suggest you go there for first-hand help in finding the special counsel your case requires. You need emergency re-education for facing life.

Du Pont Plant Employes Here Offered Plan To Boost Savings

A thrift plan was offered today to employes of the Circleville Du Pont plant under which the company will add 25 cents to every dollar they save, E. F. Ridlon, local plant manager, announced.

Purpose is to encourage employes to save regularly and to provide an opportunity for them to become stockholders in the company at no cost to themselves. Participation in the plan is entirely voluntary.

The plan sets up an incentive for employes to save regularly and on a long-range basis through payroll deductions. The company will contribute to a trust fund 25 per cent of the amount saved by each employe. This money will be used to buy Du Pont common stock for the individual.

It works like this:

Every eligible employee who wants to participate will specify the amount he wishes to save each month by payroll deduction. The minimum is $12.50 a month and the maximum is $37.50. The amount he specifies will be deducted each pay period and will be put into U. S. Savings Bonds, Series E, for him.

* * *

EVERY MONTH the company will pay over to a trustee one-fourth as much as the amount deducted for each employee. This money will be used by the trustee to buy stock monthly for the employee's account and dividends will be applied to purchase more stock for his benefit. When he accumulates a full share it will be put in his name, and after the required holding period of two years, will be turned over to him. Dividends on the shares in his name will be paid directly to him.

Since the purpose is to encourage sustained saving, the employe's savings bonds will be held for four years, then will be delivered to him in annual installments. Stock will also be held for a minimum of four years from the time he enrolls in the plan, but delivery thereafter will vary in accordance with the rate at which the stock builds up in his account.

All employes with two years or more service are eligible. This is a continuing program so, once he enrolls in it, an employe may stay in as long as he wishes. He can drop out at any time and get back his money in government bonds and the company's contribution. However, if he drops out in less than a year he loses his share of the company's contributions.

The program is subject to clearance with several federal agencies. It is expected that governmental approvals will be received in time to get the plan under way September 1. The company will pay all costs of administration.

Aside from making payroll deductions the program will be handled by a bank, as trustee. It will buy bonds and stock for the employees, hold them, deliver them at the proper time and perform other necessary services.

Church Organ Star Pestered By Woman, 35

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Cornelius J. Harrington says he believes in freedom of worship but that he had to draw the line somewhere for Miss Harriet Davis.

He drew the line in court recently. He said that if the slightly plump, 35-year-old brunette attends a church in suburban Glencoe again he will hold her in contempt of court.

Miss Davis appeared in court to have set aside an injunction restraining her from "bothering" Robert Metzler, a 50 - year - old church organist.

Metzler said Miss Davis' attentions had forced him to leave his job in a Chicago church and take another in Glencoe. He said he got the injunction a few months ago when the church trustees told him to straighten out the situation or else.

"I'm not interested in Mr. Metzler," explained Miss Davis. "I'm interested in his music. It sends me. There's something about it different from the music in any other church."

"Is that why you traveled 20 miles—just to hear him play?" asked Judge Harrington.

"Yes. I have an entirely different emotional reaction when I hear him play," she declared.

Judge Harrington explained that he didn't like to interfere with any individual's right to worship, but that he thought Miss Davis should attend a church nearer her home.

Argentine Solons Fight State Religion

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—With President Juan Peron's government pressing its fight against the Roman Catholic Church, a congressional committee announced plans of a bill to end catholicism's position as the state church.

Four Roman Catholic bishops of Buenos Aires called meanwhile for retention of Roman Catholic religious education in the public schools. A bill ending such instruction has been approved by both houses of Congress and is now awaiting Peron's signature.

The additional proposal to separate church and state would require an amendment to the national constitution, which now establishes Roman Catholicism as the state religion.

Cards Sweep Series From Brooklyn '9'

Leading Bums Go Home After Losing 5 Of 9 On Western Road Trip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals have won five straight games, six of their last seven, and, more important, their 3-2 success Wednesday night swept a series from Brooklyn. That's something the Cards have managed just four other times since Eddie Stanky took over as manager in 1952.

Brooklyn is dragging a three-game losing streak as it heads home from a dismal Western trip on which it lost five of nine. But the Dodgers still hold a 7½-game lead in the National League.

Chicago is second with the Cardinals third. The Cubs moved up by taking a double-header from the failing Philadelphia Phils 3-2 and 7-5. Milwaukee stumbled from the runner-up spot by losing to New York's Giants 4-2. Cincinnati beat Pittsburgh 5-1.

That left the standings jammed behind the Brooks. The Cards are nine percentage points behind the Cubs and three points up on the Giants. And the New Yorkers are just two points ahead of the Braves.

In the American, Cleveland leads by 1½ after smearing Boston 19-0. New York swept its series from Chicago's White Sox 11-6, while Detroit beat Baltimore 6-3 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Kansas City 7-2.

Cardinals pitchers apparently found themselves. They have allowed just three runs in their last five games with only one call to the bullpen.

The hail for help brought in Barney Schultz Wednesday night and the 6-2 right-hander got the final two outs with the tying run on second to protect Harv Haddix's second victory. With two of their runs unearned, the Cards jammed all their scoring into the first two innings. From there on, loser Johnny Podres and Clem Labine permitted only one other base runner while holding the Cards to four hits for the game.

At Milwaukee, Hank Thompson's two-run single got the Giants rolling in a three-run sixth. Warren Spahn was the loser while Johnny Antonelli spun a six-hitter.

The Cubs smacked the Phils with the help of poor fielding in the opener and three home runs in the nightcap. Sad Sam Jones, making his first start since no-hitting Pittsburgh, fanned 10 for the victory, but gave way to Hal Jeffcoat in the ninth. Jeffcoat also came on in the nightcap, relieving John Andre in the fourth, for the decision.

Cleveland waltzed behind Herb Score's three-hitter. The rookie fanned nine. Willard Nixon was knocked out in an 11-run fifth inning that saw Vic Wertz drive in five runs on a grand-slammer and a single.

At Yankee stadium, Mickey Mantle powered a bases-loaded homer after a controversial interference play that might have ended the inning except for Umpire Ed Hurley's ruling. The Sox had four homers, two by Vern Stephens, but they weren't enough. Bob Grim, the winner with help from Bobby Morgan, hit Minnie Minoso in the head with a pitch, but after X-ray examination it was reported the sox outfielder won't miss any action.

Al Kaline's single scored the tie-breaking run for Detroit, giving Frank Lary his third victory.

At Washington, the Senators scored four in the first, with Tommy Umphlett and Pete Runnells driving in two each, and coasted past the A's.

Jaycees Add Nearly $300 To Grandstand

Circleville's Junior Chamber of Commerce has added nearly $300 to its growing grandstand fund, it was announced today.

Net profit from the Harness Matinee held earlier this month amounted to $298.94. Added to last year's figure of $474.33, the total amount is now $773.27.

The Jaycees have undertaken a number of projects to pump up the grandstand fund. The grandstand which presently adorns the Fairground here, according to the Jaycees, is an eyesore.

They have undertaken to raise money for a new grandstand. However, estimates for a new structure have run as much as $30,000 and up.

The Jaycees have expressed a keen desire to prove the need for funds for its construction.

AFTER winning the 4,500th race of his 28-year riding career, Johnny Longden (right), gets congrats from the 1954 jockey leader, Willie Shoemaker, at Golden Gate Fields, Albany, Calif. Longden then rode another winner in the feature race. (International)

The luckiest opening day for the Cincinnati Redlegs was in 1945 when they beat the Pirates 7-6 in 11 innings. A homer by Jim Russell of the Pirates was disallowed because a runner had called time before the pitch was delivered.

Rudy Minarcin Is Strong As Redlegs Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rudy Minarcin of North Vandergraft, Pa., trained with the Cincinnati Redlegs last spring and might have landed a pitching berth on the squad if he had not injured his knee in an exhibition game.

The injury may have been to his benefit. For he spent the year with Toronto and gained a great deal of seasoning and control. He posted an 11-2 record. This spring, Manager Birdie Tebbetts tagged the 25-year-old righthander as a rookie who might make the grade in the tough major league.

Minarcin drew his first National League starting assignment yesterday against the Pittsburgh Pirates and held the Bucs to six hits as the Reds won, 5-1. He pitched the full nine innings. It was only the fifth time a Red pitcher has gone the route.

Minarcin was backed up with powerful hitting by Ted Kluszewski, Wally Post and Ray Jablonski.

Jabbo hit the first of his three singles in the first frame and rode home on big Klu's 10th homer of the season and third in as many days. Klu's average has jumped to .298 and he has gotten to base safely six straight times in his last two games.

Post's double in the third frame drove in two runs after the bases were loaded on singles by Johnny Temple and Jablonski and an intentional walk dealt to Kluszewski.

Cards Sweep Series From Brooklyn '9'

Leading Bums Go Home After Losing 5 Of 9 On Western Road Trip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals have won five straight games, six of their last seven, and, more important, their 3-2 success Wednesday night swept a series from Brooklyn. That's something the Cards have managed just four other times since Eddie Stanky took over as manager in 1952.

Brooklyn is dragging a three-game losing streak as it heads home from a dismal Western trip on which it lost five of nine. But the Dodgers still hold a 7½-game lead in the National League.

Chicago is second with the Cardinals third. The Cubs moved up by taking a double-header from the failing Philadelphia Phils 3-2 and 7-5. Milwaukee stumbled from the runner-up spot by losing to New York's Giants 4-2. Cincinnati beat Pittsburgh 5-1.

That left the standings jammed behind the Brooks. The Cards are nine percentage points behind the Cubs and three points up on the Giants. And the New Yorkers are just two points ahead of the Braves.

In the American, Cleveland leads by 1½ after smearing Boston 19-0. New York swept its series from Chicago's White Sox 11-6, while Detroit beat Baltimore 6-3 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Kansas City 7-2.

Cardinals pitchers apparently found themselves. They have allowed just three runs in their last five games with only one call to the bullpen.

The hail for help brought in Barney Schultz Wednesday night and the 6-2 right-hander got the final two outs with the tying run on second to protect Harv Haddix's second victory. With two of their runs unearned, the Cards jammed all their scoring into the first two innings. From there on, loser Johnny Podres and Clem Labine permitted only one other base runner while holding the Cards to four hits for the game.

At Milwaukee, Hank Thompson's two-run single got the Giants rolling in a three-run sixth. Warren Spahn was the loser while Johnny Antonelli spun a six-hitter.

The Cubs smacked the Phils with the help of poor fielding in the opener and three home runs in the nightcap. Sad Sam Jones, making his first start since no-hitting Pittsburgh, fanned 10 for the victory, but gave way to Hal Jeffcoat in the ninth. Jeffcoat also came on in the nightcap, relieving John Andre in the fourth, for the decision.

Cleveland waltzed behind Herb Score's three-hitter. The rookie fanned nine. Willard Nixon was knocked out in an 11-run fifth inning that saw Vic Wertz drive in five runs on a grand-slammer and a single.

At Yankee stadium, Mickey Mantle powered a bases-loaded homer after a controversial interference play that might have ended the inning except for Umpire Ed Hurley's ruling. The Sox had four homers, two by Vern Stephens, but they weren't enough. Bob Grim, the winner with help from Bobby Morgan, hit Minnie Minoso in the head with a pitch, but after X-ray examination it was reported the sox outfielder won't miss any action.

Al Kaline's single scored the tie-breaking run for Detroit, giving Frank Lary his third victory.

At Washington, the Senators scored four in the first, with Tommy Umphlett and Pete Runnells driving in two each, and coasted past the A's.

Rookie Rudy Minarcin won his first major league start for the Redlegs behind Tex Kluszewski's two-run homer and Wally Post's bases-loaded double.

The Jaycees have expressed a keen desire to prove the need for funds for its construction.

AFTER winning the 4,500th race of his 28-year riding career, Johnny Longden (right), gets congrats from the 1954 jockey leader, Willie Shoemaker, at Golden Gate Fields, Albany, Calif. Longden then rode another winner in the feature race. (International)

The luckiest opening day for the Cincinnati Redlegs was in 1945 when they beat the Pirates 7-6 in 11 innings. A homer by Jim Russell of the Pirates was disallowed because a runner had called time before the pitch was delivered.

Rudy Minarcin Is Strong As Redlegs Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rudy Minarcin of North Vandergraft, Pa., trained with the Cincinnati Redlegs last spring and might have landed a pitching berth on the squad if he had not injured his knee in an exhibition game.

The injury may have been to his benefit. For he spent the year with Toronto and gained a great deal of seasoning and control. He posted an 11-2 record. This spring, Manager Birdie Tebbetts tagged the 25-year-old righthander as a rookie who might make the grade in the tough major league.

Minarcin drew his first National League starting assignment yesterday against the Pittsburgh Pirates and held the Bucs to six hits as the Reds won, 5-1. He pitched the full nine innings. It was only the fifth time a Red pitcher has gone the route.

Minarcin was backed up with powerful hitting by Ted Kluszewski, Wally Post and Ray Jablonski.

Jabbo hit the first of his three singles in the first frame and rode home on big Klu's 10th homer of the season and third in as many days. Klu's average has jumped to .298 and he has gotten to base safely six straight times in his last two games.

Post's double in the third frame drove in two runs after the bases were loaded on singles by Johnny Temple and Jablonski and an intentional walk dealt to Kluszewski.

NEW FLOOR CARE GIVES WAX THE AIR

Throw away the floor wax, ma'am. Here's something better.

Glaxo, a tip-top coating for linoleum or asphalt tile, covers kitchen floors with a water-clear finish that dries in one hour and lasts for months.

Easy to apply, Glaxo gives a high-luster, non-slip surface that wears and wears. You actually save money over wax — and you keep your colorful floor shiny bright.

Johnson Says Hearing Is 'Tough Fight'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson, "facing one of the toughest fights of my career," was due back on the witness stand today in a probe of his collapse in a nationally televised fight with Julio Mederos.

Johnson was the only witness in yesterday's session of the investigation by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission into reports the 26-year-old Philadelphia boxer had been drugged before the May 6 fight.

The commission has charged Johnson, three of his handlers and the matchmaker with negligence in covering up his pre-fight condition.

The No. 1 light heavyweight contender said the investigation "is one of the toughest fights of my career and I'll be tickled pink when it's over."

While on the stand, Johnson identified the picture of a former narcotics convict as that of a man he saw in his dressing room the night of the fight. The man was identified for the record as Louis Saccaroma.

Police said he had been arrested 10 times on narcotics charges and that he had been paroled in 1953 after serving five years for violating the federal drug act.

In Miami, however, Saccaroma, who is one of Mederos' three managers, asserted:

"It's a damn lie. They're not going to make me the goat."

He denied he was in Philadelphia the night of the fight. He said he was in his Miami home watching the fight on television. Two of his neighbors confirmed his statement.

IL's Pennant Race Closest In Years

COLUMBUS (AP) — There may have been closer races in the 72-year-old history of the International League, but old timers today couldn't recall one that matched this year's pennant scrap.

Two games separate the first four clubs as only one month of the season has gone by.

Montreal regained first place last night as the Royals nipped the Buffalo Bisons, 2-1. Rochester, which held the top spot, fell to third place as the Toronto Maple Leafs edged the Red Wings, 3-2.

Havana swept a doubleheader from Columbus and Syracuse defeated Richmond.

Fazio Favored In Kegler Meet

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Buzz Fazio of Detroit, a little guy whose bowling is bigtime appeared in the best position to walk off with the $1,000 first place money in the fifth annual Masters bowling meet.

The tourney, run in connection with the 52nd American Bowling Congress tourney, ends tonight. Only Fazio, of the 64 original contestants, is undefeated in the double elimination tournament. Fazio's opposition tonight will come from either Dick Hoover of Akron or Joe Kristof of Chicago.

Johnson Says Hearing Is 'Tough Fight'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson, "facing one of the toughest fights of my career," was due back on the witness stand today in a probe of his collapse in a nationally televised fight with Julio Mederos.

Johnson was the only witness in yesterday's session of the investigation by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission into reports the 26-year-old Philadelphia boxer had been drugged before the May 6 fight.

The commission has charged Johnson, three of his handlers and the matchmaker with negligence in covering up his pre-fight condition.

The No. 1 light heavyweight contender said the investigation "is one of the toughest fights of my career and I'll be tickled pink when it's over."

While on the stand, Johnson identified the picture of a former narcotics convict as that of a man he saw in his dressing room the night of the fight. The man was identified for the record as Louis Saccaroma.

Police said he had been arrested 10 times on narcotics charges and that he had been paroled in 1953 after serving five years for violating the federal drug act.

In Miami, however, Saccaroma, who is one of Mederos' three managers, asserted:

"It's a damn lie. They're not going to make me the goat."

He denied he was in Philadelphia the night of the fight. He said he was in his Miami home watching the fight on television. Two of his neighbors confirmed his statement.

IL's Pennant Race Closest In Years

COLUMBUS (AP) — There may have been closer races in the 72-year-old history of the International League, but old timers today couldn't recall one that matched this year's pennant scrap.

Two games separate the first four clubs as only one month of the season has gone by.

Montreal regained first place last night as the Royals nipped the Buffalo Bisons, 2-1. Rochester, which held the top spot, fell to third place as the Toronto Maple Leafs edged the Red Wings, 3-2.

Havana swept a doubleheader from Columbus and Syracuse defeated Richmond.

Fazio Favored In Kegler Meet

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Buzz Fazio of Detroit, a little guy whose bowling is bigtime appeared in the best position to walk off with the $1,000 first place money in the fifth annual Masters bowling meet.

The tourney, run in connection with the 52nd American Bowling Congress tourney, ends tonight. Only Fazio, of the 64 original contestants, is undefeated in the double elimination tournament. Fazio's opposition tonight will come from either Dick Hoover of Akron or Joe Kristof of Chicago.

Ohio Scholastic Trackmen Set For State Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's scholastic cinder stars descend on Columbus tomorrow and Saturday for the 48th state high school track-field championships.

With the slower-footed hopefuls weekend out in district eliminations last weekend, 696 Class A and 562 Class B qualifiers will shoot for the championships in 14 events in each division.

A year ago, Glenn Davis of Barberton, his school's lone entrant, walked off with the Class A "team" title. The classy speedsters won the 220-yard dash, 180-yard low hurdles and broad jump, and added a fourth place in the 100-yard dash for a 20-point total and a clear-cut six-point edge over runner-up Mansfield. Nevada, with a two-man team, won in Class B with 18 points.

But this year, Cleveland East Tech is favored in Class A with a well - rounded and powerful aggregation. Class B is considered wide open. East Tech, after routing the opposition in preliminary meets, is siming at its 13th Class A title. The Scarabs failed to win an event last year, but scored 10 points for a seventh-place tie.

The Cleveland school qualified 15 for Saturday's big spree, and expects its biggest opposition from Mansfield's 1954 second - placers who qualified 17.

At least two new state records are certain in Class B, if qualifiers can match their district meet performances. Ken Scarbrough of McDonald tossed the discus 165 feet 4 inches, almost seven feet beyond the current mark. And Deporres came up with a 6-feet 7-inch high jump to miss the national record by only an eighth of an inch.

The Class A 100-yard dash may be the meet's big feature. Defending champion Roger Williams of Toledo Libbey raced to victory in the district in 9.6 seconds to tie the record set in 1933 by Jesse Owens, and Jim Tiller of Fremont Ross chased him home in 9.8. Jim Lord of Dayton Stivers also made it in 9.8 as all five qualifiers from the Gen City area were timed in 10 seconds or less.

Willie Pep Wins Easily Over Cadilli

DETROIT (AP)—Willie Pep, the former featherweight champion of the world, danced and jabbed his way to one of the most onesided victories of his career last night—a unanimous 10-round decision over Gil Cadilli.

It was a nationally televised rematch of their March 30 fight at Parks Air Force Base in California. Cadilli was awarded a much disputed decision in that one.

Pep took command at the opening bell last night and hardly gave Cadilli a chance to land a solid blow.

Barbara Romak Eyes British Title

PORTRUSH, Northern Ireland (AP)—Little Barbara Romack bid today to become the third American to win both the British and U. S. women's amateur golf titles. Babe Zaharias did it in 1947 and Louise Suggs in 1948.

The attractive 22-year-old Sacramento, Calif., girl, who also holds the Canadian amateur title, met Mrs. George Valentine of Perth, Scotland, in the 36-hole final of the British women's championship.

Mrs. Valentine won the British championship in 1937 when Barbara was four years old.

Tribe Slated For Benefit With Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cleveland Indians who bounded out of a batting slump with a 19-0 victory over Boston yesterday, play the St. Louis Cardinals tonight in an exhibition for the benefit of St. Louis sandlot baseball.

Yesterday's game included three-hit pitching by Herb Score. It was his best game of the season. He struck out nine—not as many as usual—but he walked only three, a big improvement in control. His record is now 4-2.

Ralph Kiner, who hadn't got a hit in 13 trips to the plate, went in as a pinch hitter in the fifth and homered, then added two singles in subsequent appearances.

Vic Wertz got Cleveland's first grand slam homer of 1955. Hank Majeski also homered.

The Indians got 19 hits off three Boston pitchers. They scored 11 runs in the fifth inning — three short of a club record. The 19-run total was two under a league record.

The three hits off Score were a double by Sammy White and singles by Ted Lepcio and Bill Goodman.

The Indians are still playing without injured Al Rosen and George Strickland. Rosen said he wanted especially to play in Boston because it's his favorite park, "but I know if I play my leg may never get well."

Bill Wight and Art Houtteman will pitch tonight against the Cards. The Cards beat the Indians, 2-1, in an exhibition at Cleveland last year.

Bob Lemon, scheduled to pitch in Detroit tomorrow night, didn't make the trip to St. Louis. He went to Detroit to rest up.

Omaha Advances In AA Flag Race

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha took over second place in the American Association yesterday with a 7-3 win over St. Paul while Toledo won a 10-9 slugging match with Louisville in which the margin ironically was an infield hit.

Indianapolis overpowered Charleston, 10-7. The Minneapolis Millers were rained out at Denver.

Tonight Minneapolis goes to Omaha and St. Paul to Denver, Charleston and Louisville stay at Indianapolis and Toledo.

Minoso Beaned For 19th Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Minnie Minoso, Chicago White Sox outfielder who has been hit by more pitched balls than any other American League player the last three seasons, was expected to be released from the hospital today after being hit for the third time this year.

Minoso was hit on the cheek bone by Bob Grim, Yankee pitcher, in the first inning of Wednesday's game. X-rays revealed no breaks.

Minoso was hit 16 times by pitched balls last year.

Hank Bauer Angers Chisox For 'Dirty Tactics' In Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Angry Chicago White Sox players, bitter at New York's Hank Bauer for the use of what they termed "dirty tactics," threatened today to retaliate against the bruising Yankee outfielder the next time the teams meet.

Umpire Ed Hurley ruled interference against Bauer for a play during Wednesday's game, which the Yankees won 11-6.

New York, leading 7-6, was at bat in the seventh inning. They had filled the bases with one out. Andy Carey hit a grounder to second baseman Nellie Fox, who turned to tag Bauer, the base runner from first.

Bauer charged into Fox and sent him sprawling. Fox, from a supine position, threw to first too late to double up Carey as Gil McDougald crossed the plate.

When Manager Marty Marion charged out of the White Sox dugout to protest, Hurley ruled interference on Bauer and sent McDougald back to third. Bauer was called out and the bases remained full.

Marion argued for a double play but got nowhere.

Mickey Mantle then hit a grand-slam homer to put the Yankees beyond reach.

Baseball rule 7.09F seemed to uphold Marion. It states:

"If any base runner who had just been retired hinders or impedes any following play being made on a runner, such a runner should be declared out for the interference of his teammate."

Hurley, however, had a different version. Reached in the umpires' dressing room after the game, he said:

"Bauer pushed him while Fox was in the act of fielding the ball. He did not have complete control of the ball. That's why I called Bauer out for interference.

"If Fox had full possession, I would have ruled it a double play."

Press box observers were unanimous in the opinion that Fox not only had fielded the ball, but was in the act of tagging Bauer when the husky outfielder came barreling into him.

"Maybe he calls it aggressive baseball," Fox said angrily, "but I call it dirty playing. If he wants to play football instead of baseball I'll get some football pads the next time and we'll go at it."

Bauer told it this way: "Sure he had the ball, but he was standing in my way. I'm entitled to the baseline. So I hit him with my chest."

"It's high time we did something about this guy," a White Sox player said. "In Chicago he nearly cut off Chico Carrasquel's leg, sliding in with his spikes high. This time he deliberately charged into Nellie to break up a sure double play. It's high time our pitchers got even by brushing him back with a couple of high hard ones."

Marion said an official protest was useless because "it's not a matter of rule interpretation, but one of judgment."

Winless Pair Scores High At Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—Silver Pat, winless in two seasons, and Oscar Patch, victoryless in three years; combined for a huge $428.20 daily double here last niight.

Silver Pat, owned and driven by Ed Boyer of Springfield, copped the first race and paid $17.60. Oscar Patch grabbed the second race and returned $18.40. He is owned by Russell Van Blaricum of North Vernon, Ind., and driven by Herman Foist, also of North Vernon.

Owner-driver Arlo Edwards of Sunbury, Ind., won the feature trot behind Guy Colby, who raced the mile in 2:11.2.

Following is the summary of last night's Lebanon Raceway card:

1st Race: Class 30 Trot — 1 mile—$400. Silver Pat (Boyer), Signal Light (Dewine), Paul Jackson (Louiso). Time 2:13.4.

Ohio Scholastic Trackmen Set For State Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's scholastic cinder stars descend on Columbus tomorrow and Saturday for the 48th state high school track-field championships.

With the slower-footed hopefuls weekend out in district eliminations last weekend, 696 Class A and 562 Class B qualifiers will shoot for the championships in 14 events in each division.

A year ago, Glenn Davis of Barberton, his school's lone entrant, walked off with the Class A "team" title. The classy speedsters won the 220-yard dash, 180-yard low hurdles and broad jump, and added a fourth place in the 100-yard dash for a 20-point total and a clear-cut six-point edge over runner-up Mansfield. Nevada, with a two-man team, won in Class B with 18 points.

But this year, Cleveland East Tech is favored in Class A with a well - rounded and powerful aggregation. Class B is considered wide open. East Tech, after routing the opposition in preliminary meets, is siming at its 13th Class A title. The Scarabs failed to win an event last year, but scored 10 points for a seventh-place tie.

The Cleveland school qualified 15 for Saturday's big spree, and expects its biggest opposition from Mansfield's 1954 second - placers who qualified 17.

At least two new state records are certain in Class B, if qualifiers can match their district meet performances. Ken Scarbrough of McDonald tossed the discus 165 feet 4 inches, almost seven feet beyond the current mark. And Deporres came up with a 6-feet 7-inch high jump to miss the national record by only an eighth of an inch.

The Class A 100-yard dash may be the meet's big feature. Defending champion Roger Williams of Toledo Libbey raced to victory in the district in 9.6 seconds to tie the record set in 1933 by Jesse Owens, and Jim Tiller of Fremont Ross chased him home in 9.8. Jim Lord of Dayton Stivers also made it in 9.8 as all five qualifiers from the Gen City area were timed in 10 seconds or less.

Willie Pep Wins Easily Over Cadilli

DETROIT (AP)—Willie Pep, the former featherweight champion of the world, danced and jabbed his way to one of the most onesided victories of his career last night—a unanimous 10-round decision over Gil Cadilli.

It was a nationally televised rematch of their March 30 fight at Parks Air Force Base in California. Cadilli was awarded a much disputed decision in that one.

Pep took command at the opening bell last night and hardly gave Cadilli a chance to land a solid blow.

Barbara Romak Eyes British Title

PORTRUSH, Northern Ireland (AP)—Little Barbara Romack bid today to become the third American to win both the British and U. S. women's amateur golf titles. Babe Zaharias did it in 1947 and Louise Suggs in 1948.

The attractive 22-year-old Sacramento, Calif., girl, who also holds the Canadian amateur title, met Mrs. George Valentine of Perth, Scotland, in the 36-hole final of the British women's championship.

Mrs. Valentine won the British championship in 1937 when Barbara was four years old.

Tribe Slated For Benefit With Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, who bounded out of a batting slump with a 19-0 victory over Boston yesterday, play the St. Louis Cardinals tonight in an exhibition for the benefit of St. Louis sandlot baseball.

Yesterday's game included three-hit pitching by Herb Score. It was his best game of the season. He struck out nine—not as many as usual—but he walked only three, a big improvement in control. His record is now 4-2.

Ralph Kiner, who hadn't got a hit in 13 trips to the plate, went in as a pinch hitter in the fifth and homered, then added two singles in subsequent appearances.

Vic Wertz got Cleveland's first grand slam homer of 1955. Hank Majeski also homered.

The Indians got 19 hits off three Boston pitchers. They scored 11 runs in the fifth inning — three short of a club record. The 19-run total was two under a league record.

The three hits off Score were a double by Sammy White and singles by Ted Lepcio and Bill Goodman.

The Indians are still playing without injured Al Rosen and George Strickland. Rosen said he wanted especially to play in Boston because it's his favorite park, "but I know if I play my leg may never get well."

Bill Wight and Art Houtteman will pitch tonight against the Cards. The Cards beat the Indians, 2-1, in an exhibition at Cleveland last year.

Bob Lemon, scheduled to pitch in Detroit tomorrow night, didn't make the trip to St. Louis. He went to Detroit to rest up.

Omaha Advances In AA Flag Race

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha took over second place in the American Association yesterday with a 7-3 win over St. Paul while Toledo won a 10-9 slugging match with Louisville in which the margin ironically was an infield hit.

Indianapolis overpowered Charleston, 10-7. The Minneapolis Millers were rained out at Denver.

Tonight Minneapolis goes to Omaha and St. Paul to Denver, Charleston and Louisville stay at Indianapolis and Toledo.

Minoso Beaned For 19th Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Minnie Minoso, Chicago White Sox outfielder who has been hit by more pitched balls than any other American League player the last three seasons, was expected to be released from the hospital today after being hit for the third time this year.

Minoso was hit on the cheek bone by Bob Grim, Yankee pitcher, in the first inning of Wednesday's game. X-rays revealed no breaks.

Minoso was hit 16 times by pitched balls last year.

Hank Bauer Angers Chisox For 'Dirty Tactics' In Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Angry Chicago White Sox players, bitter at New York's Hank Bauer for the use of what they termed "dirty tactics," threatened today to retaliate against the bruising Yankee outfielder the next time the teams meet.

Umpire Ed Hurley ruled interference against Bauer for a play during Wednesday's game, which the Yankees won 11-6.

New York, leading 7-6, was at bat in the seventh inning. They had filled the bases with one out. Andy Carey hit a grounder to second baseman Nellie Fox, who turned to tag Bauer, the base runner from first.

Bauer charged into Fox and sent him sprawling. Fox, from a supine position, threw to first too late to double up Carey as Gil McDougald crossed the plate.

When Manager Marty Marion charged out of the White Sox dugout to protest, Hurley ruled interference on Bauer and sent McDougald back to third. Bauer was called out and the bases remained full.

Marion argued for a double play but got nowhere.

Mickey Mantle then hit a grand-slam homer to put the Yankees beyond reach.

Baseball rule 7.09F seemed to uphold Marion. It states:

"If any base runner who had just been retired hinders or impedes any following play being made on a runner, such a runner should be declared out for the interference of his teammate."

Hurley, however, had a different version. Reached in the umpires' dressing room after the game, he said:

"Bauer pushed him while Fox was in the act of fielding the ball. He did not have complete control of the ball. That's why I called Bauer out for interference.

"If Fox had full possession, I would have ruled it a double play."

Press box observers were unanimous in the opinion that Fox not only had fielded the ball, but was in the act of tagging Bauer when the husky outfielder came barreling into him.

"Maybe he calls it aggressive baseball," Fox said angrily, "but I call it dirty playing. If he wants to play football instead of baseball I'll get some football pads the next time and we'll go at it."

Bauer told it this way: "Sure he had the ball, but he was standing in my way. I'm entitled to the baseline. So I hit him with my chest."

"It's high time we did something about this guy," a White Sox player said. "In Chicago he nearly cut off Chico Carrasquel's leg, sliding in with his spikes high. This time he deliberately charged into Nellie to break up a sure double play. It's high time our pitchers got even by brushing him back with a couple of high hard ones."

Marion said an official protest was useless because "it's not a matter of rule interpretation, but one of judgment."

Winless Pair Scores High At Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—Silver Pat, winless in two seasons, and Oscar Patch, victoryless in three years, combined for a huge $428.20 daily double here last niight.

Silver Pat, owned and driven by Ed Boyer of Springfield, copped the first race and paid $17.60. Oscar Patch grabbed the second race and returned $18.40. He is owned by Russell Van Blaricum of North Vernon, Ind., and driven by Herman Foist, also of North Vernon.

Owner-driver Arlo Edwards of Sunbury, Ind., won the feature trot behind Guy Colby, who raced the mile in 2:11.2.

Following is the summary of last night's Lebanon Raceway card:

1st Race: Class 30 Trot — 1 mile—$400. Silver Pat (Boyer), Signal Light (Dewine), Paul Jackson (Louiso). Time 2:13.4.

Parent Support Of City PTA Accused Of Being Weak

Former Head Of Local Group Asserts Claim

Declares Attendance At Past Meetings Has Been Terrible

Although Circleville's Parent-Teacher Assn. membership numbers more than 600, actual support of the organization is dwindling.

This revelation came from Mrs. George Gerhardt, a former president of the local group.

Her charge comes in the face of a report from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which boasts of a new all time high in membership—nearly 9½ million.

The state of Ohio, according to the report, ranks second in membership behind California. Ohio had a 6 per cent increase in membership last year, the report indicates.

* * *

"CIRCLEVILLE is just too over-organized," Mrs. Gerhardt asserted. "There are so many groups that parents apparently are too busy doing other things than support their local PTA."

She said that attendance at meetings was "terrible." She noted that at a recent meeting, there was a higher percentage of teachers than parents; although 10 students took part in a program that evening, only 14 parents attended, she added.

"The city will need the PTA more in the future if we expect to expand," Mrs. Gerhardt pointed out. "But at the present time, parents do not seem interested in PTA work."

She went on to explain that the PTA is the only organization "between parents, teachers and administrators." But parents are not holding up their end of the organization, she added.

"The Circleville PTA needs more than just money," she declared. "We need support more than anything else—support by attendance at meetings."

HOWEVER, Mrs. Newton P. Leonard, of Providence, R. I., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, credits the half-million rise in national membership to continued growing interest in the organization's work for better homes, schools, and communities. She emphasized that there is ever-increasing awareness of the need for parent-teacher action across the nation.

The annual convention of the National Congress in Chicago, Ill. May 23-25, to be attended by more than 3,000 delegates representing the 39,000 local PTA units, will have as its theme: "Better Homes, Better Schools, Better Communities for a Peaceful Society."

Harold E. Stassen, special presidential aide for world disarmament, will make a major speech at the convention. Many other well-known speakers are also on the program, including:

Henry I. Willett, president of the American Association of School Administrators; Mrs. Ernest Evans, president of the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation; Waurine Walker, president of the National Education Association; Marcus Bach, State University of Iowa; Bonaro Overstreet, author and lecturer; and James W. Clarke, Princeton Theological Seminary.

A special feature of the convention will be the dedication of the organization's new national headquarters, a modern, 3-story, $750,000 structure in Chicago.

Judith Anderson Likes Life On Her Little Melon Ranch

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's Medea among the melons and Lady Macbeth in the lettuce patch when Judith Anderson is not doing her high-powered emoting before audiences.

The Australian-born actress gets away from it all at her 38-acre ranch in Carpinteria, just south of Santa Barbara, Calif. And friends say that she really escapes from her classical roles up yonder. Instead of flowing robes, she sports blue jeans, old shirts and straw hats.

When viewed on the set of "The Ten Commandments," she was in more typical attire. She plays the slave of the Pharoah's daughter, Nina Foch, and the scene showed them fishing the infant Moses out of the bullrushes.

Miss Anderson, dressed in an early Egyptian costume with a metal slave band around her arm, looked dour as she sank the baby boat into the Nile (actually the tank on Paramount's back lot).

Afterwards, she was told "you looked great in the rushes," but this bit of drollery was wasted on her. Her mind was on other matters, such as Paris and avocados.

The Paris matter concerns "Medea," which she is going to do next month as part of the "Salute to France." This is the artistic gesture sponsored by the State Department. Besides "Medea," French art treasures, symphony orchestras and "Oklahoma!" are going to Paris.

"I'm very thrilled about it," Miss Anderson remarked. "We'll do the play at the Sarah Bernhardt theater. She has always been my idol, although I never saw her perform."

But to get to the avocados—"I am expecting them to take care of me in my old age."

So far the temperamental trees haven't come through for her. When she bought the ranch a few years ago, it was a fairly run-down place with lemon groves. She had the place spruced up and 500 avocado trees planted.

"There are so many things that can go wrong," she said. "The wind can blow the blossoms away or the bees might not appear to carry the pollen. So far we haven't had any fruit. In another year we'll find out whether these trees will produce or if we'll have to graft new buds on them."

Dancing Cigarette Girls On TV Veiled In Secrecy

NEW YORK (AP) — You'll never see the faces that go with three of the prettiest pairs of legs in television—those of the dancing cigarette packs.

Their sponsor, Old Gold, tries to protect their identities as closely as if they were state secrets on the theory that the mystery creates added interest among viewers. But he has furnished some facts:

Miss Regular Pack has been a member of the act the longest, making her debut in 1948. Second was Miss King Size, who made her debut in April 1953. The newest member is Miss Filter King, who joined last September.

Miss Regular Pack is a professional who comes from a long line of dancers, and she also is choreographer for the act: Her comment, relayed through the secrecy veil, is:

"At first I didn't like it. What entertainer would? But now I wouldn't have it otherwise. Today I dance before millions of people a week. Hoofing it before television I couldn't dance to that many people in a lifetime. And when you like dancing, you like to dance for lots of people."

Miss King Size likes the anonymity. She had decided to retire from show business after her recent marriage, but her present assignmnt enables her to continue with no publicity that might interfere with the privacy of an ordinary housewife.

Miss Filter King, a pretty 20-year-old who has appeared on stage, screen and TV, finds the security regulations something of a problem because she is single.

"The sponsor won't permit me to explain even to my boyfriend," she declares, "and he wants to know why I can't date him Saturday night."

Corn-Planting Delay Chided By Soviet

MOSCOW (AP) — Strong orders have gone out to Soviet farmers to end an "unbearable" delay in the planting of corn and get their quotas in the ground within the next three to five days.

The Kremlin command did not say how badly the corn planting was lagging, or how much was the goal. But it ordered directors of state and collective farms to draft all farm workers for the sowing, and to keep them working every daylight hour. No penalties were announced for further failure.

Cops Red-Faced After Making Grab

CINCINNATI (AP)—"Man garbed in a service station attendant's uniform attempting to break into the Sears Roebuck service station, Reading Road and Tennis Lane, Walnut Hills," came a report to police yesterday.

Police cars were dispatched to the scene. With drawn pistols, they cautiously approached the figure, and then pounced.

It was a clothes dummy that some prankster had placed against the door. The cops holstered their pistols, climbed into their cars and drove away red-faced.

Fire Station Fire Hurts 2 Firemen

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Two firemen were injured last night when an old fire engine burst into flames in the fire station.

Damage to the station and equipment was estimated at $7,000 to $10,000. Fireman Charles Phillips, 26, suffered first, second and third-degree burns of the hands and arms and engineer Harold Kingery, 41, received slight burns.

Fire Chief Bacil Roberts said Phillips and Kingery were cleaning a gasoline sediment bowl on an old engine

Coal Operation Caution Urged

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coal production is on the upswing, but coal operators should remain on "the cautious" side until there is evidence the comeback will continue, Joseph E. Moody says.

Moody, head of the Southern Coal Producers Assn., is here for the American Mining Congress.

Three weeks of full operation have made some coal men project optimism over the next five years, Moody said, "but if they are down three days, they are ruined."

Parent Support Of City PTA Accused Of Being Weak

Former Head Of Local Group Asserts Claim

Declares Attendance At Past Meetings Has Been Terrible

Although Circleville's Parent-Teacher Assn. membership numbers more than 600, actual support of the organization is dwindling.
